PHOENIX SUNS®

1996-97 MEDIA INFORMATION

Welcome to the 1996-97 National Basketball Association season. As the Phoenix Suns begin their 29th NBA season, you can be sure to expect many exciting moments. It is also our fifth year in the America West Arena, which has proven to be one of the most accessible arenas in the league. In an effort to continue to provide a professional working environment, please note the following guidelines we have established for the upcoming season:

Media credentials are issued to working media only. All season and individual game credential holders should enter through the northeast entrance off 3rd Street and Jefferson. Media will-call opens two and one-half hours prior to the game. All credentials are non-transferable, and any unauthorized use will subject bearer to ejection from the America West Arena and confiscation of the pass.

Season media passes will be issued to recognized newspapers, magazines, television and established radio stations making reasonable requests on company letterhead. Please indicate those persons who will be using each pass. It is important that season pass holders notify this office of their intentions to cover a game in order to reserve press seating.

Individual game credentials should be requested through the Suns' Media Relations Department (phone: 602-379-7920; fax: 602-530-2255) a minimum of 30 hours prior to game time or by 1:30 p.m. Friday for all Saturday, Sunday and Monday contests. Pre-arranged passes may be picked up at the media will-call located inside the northeast entrance. Absolutely NO passes will be issued on game day. Credentials will be issued on an availability-only basis, only requests confirmed via phone by the Media Relations Department will be honored.

Credentials are good for admittance to the arena, media room and both locker rooms. Both the Suns and visiting locker rooms will be open up to 45 minutes before the game and then again 10 minutes after the game. Your cooperation is asked in maintaining a working atmosphere. Absolutely NO autographs allowed during media access periods.

Interviews which need advance preparation or special accommodation by a Suns player or staff member should be made by contacting the Suns' Media Relations Department. This includes live television interviews for pre- and post-game.

Photo credentials will be issued in the same manner as other passes. Weekly papers and magazines on assignment may obtain passes by having the photo editor request a single game credential. It is club policy NOT to allow freelance photographers access. ALL photographers must have an arm band in order to gain floor access. The arm bands can be obtained at the media will-call check in.

Telephones for the working media should be ordered through Vicki Berryman at the America West Arena (602) 379-2099. Facsimile service is available by contacting the Suns' Media Relations Department prior to to the game.

Statisticians are available to assist radio and television broadcasts by contacting the Suns' Media Relations Department. These services must be arranged several days prior to the game, and once the request is made, the statistician must be compensated whether or not they are used.

We hope that this outline of procedures and guidelines will assist you in your coverage of the National Basketball Association in the America West Arena. Please call the Media Relations Department if you need additional assistance.

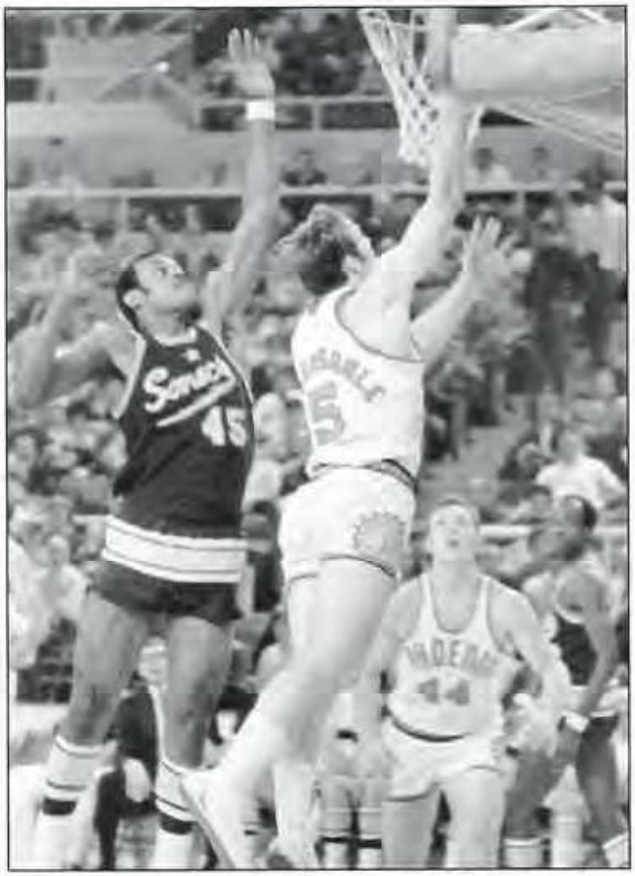
THE PHOENIX SUNS... A FAN-TASTIC STORY



Dick Van Arsdale scores the first basket in Suns history on a feed from Dick Snyder as they defeated the Seattle Sonics 116-107 in the first regular season game at the Coliseum.

THE BEGINNING OF A FRANCHISE...

On January 22, 1968, the NBA Board of Governors awarded a franchise to Phoenix. The new team's leadership came from owners Richard Bloch of Los Angeles along with Donald Pitt and Donald Diamond of Tucson. They brought together a group of investors that included entertainers Henry Mancini, Tony Curtis, Ed Ames, Andy Williams and Bobby Gentry.

Jerry Colangelo, former Illinois basketball star and member of the Chicago Bulls' organization, was selected as the club's first general manager at age 28. Soon after, he named Johnny Kerr as the franchise's first head coach. The name "Suns" was chosen through a contest (28,000 entries submitted). Since several entries were marked "Suns," a drawing was held and Selinda King of Phoenix was selected as the person who officially named the new franchise.

In the May 6, 1968 Expansion Draft, forward Dick Van Arsdale, who was left unprotected by the New York Knicks, became "The Original Sun." Van Arsdale scored the franchise's first point, including 12,060 as a Sun, and would later have his jersey (5) retired.

The Suns played their first game October 18, 1968, and defeated the Seattle SuperSonics, 116-107, before 7,112 fans at Veterans Memorial Coliseum. However, Phoenix won only 15 of the next 81 to finish at 16-66. But the franchise was buoyed by the hope that it might land the nation's top collegiate player, Lew Alcindor, in the NBA Draft. In a coin flip between the Eastern and Western Conference teams with the poorest records (Milwaukee and Phoenix), the Suns called "heads" and watched as the coin showed "tails." Milwaukee claimed Alcindor, later known as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, and captured the NBA title two years later.

Success, however, came more quickly for Phoenix than skeptics first thought when the Suns won a second coin flip and the rights to ABA star Connie Hawkins. Hawkins had been banned from the NBA for seven years because of unfounded implications of association with gamblers during his college days at the University of Iowa.

With "The Hawk" in full swoop, the Suns made the playoffs in their second season, battling the Los Angeles Lakers to the seven game limit in the conference semifinals. With the emergence of eventual four-time All-Star and NBA Hall of Famer Hawkins, and the Suns' impressive playoff performance, the Suns had finally arrived on the NBA roadmap.

Several coaching changes occured during the next three seasons which saw Colangelo himself on the bench, Lowell "Cotton" Fitzsimmons, Bill Van Breda Kolff, and ultimately John MacLeod in 1973.

High-flying Connie Hawkins (#42), who was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1992, helped put Phoenix on the NBA map.

...THE GREATEST GAME EVER PLAYED

Following two tough seasons under former University of Oklahoma head coach MacLeod, things brightened when the 1975-76 club, headed by Rookie of the Year Alvan Adams and Paul Westphal, parlayed a 42-40 record and wild card playoff berth into their first Western Conference title and a trip to the NBA Finals to face Boston. Game Five of that series has been called "the greatest game ever played," as Boston won 128-126 in a triple-overtime thriller. The Celtics eventually captured the title, 4-2, but the "Sunderella" Suns demonstrated that they had come along way in just eight seasons.

A down year in 1976-77 was followed by a span of six seasons in which the Suns averaged nearly 52 wins, including a trip to the 1979 Western Conference Finals. The next four seasons, beginning with 1983-84, saw the team slowed by injuries and Lady Luck's wicked step-sister, Bad Luck. The team made the playoffs in 1983-84 with a 41-41 record and lost in six games to the Lakers in the conference finals. The club slipped to 36-46 the following season as 266 games were missed due to injury or illness. Included in that bunch was All-Star Walter Davis, who missed 59 games.

In 1985-86 only two players were able to suit up for all 82 games. The Suns began the season with an 0-9 mark and never recovered, finishing at 32-50. MacLeod used 20 different starting combinations in 1986-87, while trying to work in five rookies, and finished 36-46. After 14 seasons, MacLeod was released on February 26, 1987. Dick Van Arsdale was hired on an interim basis before long-time Suns assistant coach, John Wetzel, took the helm on April 27, 1987.

PHOENIX RISING...

On October 14, 1987, Colangelo led a group of Phoenix-area investors that purchased the team from its original owners for $44.5 million. He was then named to his current position as president and chief executive officer.

After a 28-54 finish in 1987-88, Wetzel was replaced by Fitzsimmons, his second stint as Suns head coach. On February 25, 1988, Cotton laid the groundwork for one of the biggest turnarounds in NBA history by trading All-Star Larry Nance to Cleveland with Mike Sanders and a first-round pick for Kevin Johnson, Mark West, Tyrone Corbin and first- and second-round picks. Cotton wasn't finished. On July 5, 1988, the Suns made NBA history by signing the league's first unrestricted free agent, Tom Chambers.

A revamped 1988-89 Suns squad had just one holdover player, Jeff Hornacek, remaining from two seasons before. Colangelo also hired former Sun Paul Westphal as an assistant coach. The Suns finished 55-27 and were the NBA's top scoring team. Their 27-win turnaround from the previous season was one of the biggest turnarounds in league history at the time. In the playoffs, the Suns were swept by the Lakers in the conference finals. Phoenix garnered an NBA record four post-season awards: Coach of the Year (Fitzsimmons), Most Improved Player (KJ), Sixth Man (Eddie Johnson) and Executive of the Year (Colangelo). Chambers and KJ were named second-team All-NBA.

During 1988-89, Colangelo moved ahead with plans for a new downtown arena that the Suns could call home. In a unique partnership with the city of Phoenix, the $89 million America West Arena was born. Construction of the arena began during the summer of 1990.

The Suns continued to roll in 1989-90, posting a 54-28 record and, for the first time, defeated the Lakers in the playoffs, beating them 4-1 in the semifinals, before falling to Portland, 2-4, in the conference finals. The Suns posted 55 wins in 1990-91 and once again had their fastbreak offense in gear. On November 10, 1990, the Suns set an NBA record for points in a half (107) and for most points scored in a non-overtime game with a 173-143 win over Denver at the Coliseum. Injuries derailed the club as they made a first round exit against Utah. In 1991-92, the Suns finished at 53-29, but fell to Portland in the semifinals. The Suns' last game at the "Madhouse on McDowell" was a thrilling 153-151 double-overtime loss in Game Four.

The All-Star combination of forward Tom Chambers and point guard Kevin Johnson helped point the franchise in the right direction.

... A NEW ERA OF BASKETBALL

Celebrating their 25th year in the NBA, Phoenix rocked the basketball world with a blockbuster trade. On June 17, 1992, the team acquired Charles Barkley from Philadelphia for Hornacek, Tim Perry, and Andrew Lang. Danny Ainge also signed with the team as a free agent. On November 7, 1992, the Suns opened their new home, America West Arena, with a new head coach in Westphal, a new logo, and new uniforms.

Suns trainer Joe Proski (left) congratulates Walter Davis during his jersey retirement ceremony in 1993. "Sweet D" remains the club's all-time leading scorer with 15,666 points.

The 1992-93 club jammed 25 years of excitement into one amazing season that included a franchise-best 14-0 December, and a strong showing at the All-Star game where Barkley, Dan Majerle, Cedric Ceballos (slam dunk contest), and the Suns coaching staff represented the team. Colangelo, whose tenure running the same team is exceeded only by Boston's Red Auerbach, was named NBA Executive of the Year for an unprecedented fourth time. Barkley earned the NBA's MVP award, and the Suns finished the season with a club-record and NBA-best 62-20 record.

The Suns made NBA playoff history by coming back to beat the Lakers in the opening round after losing the first two at home. They defeated San Antonio in six games, Seattle in seven, and returned to the Finals for the first time since 1976. After losing the first two at home to the defending World Champion Chicago Bulls, the Suns went to the Windy City and won two of three, including a 129-121 triple overtime affair in Game Three. John Paxson gave the Bulls their third-straight NBA title after sinking a three-pointer with 3.9 seconds left in Game Six at Phoenix.

During the summer of 1993, the Suns landed free agent A.C. Green from the Lakers where he earned two NBA title rings. Although injuries played a significant role down the stretch, Phoenix still finished with its third-best record in franchise history at 56-26. The Suns began the playoffs by sweeping Golden State. Barkley amazed fans in Game Three when he scored 27-straight points in the first quarter without a missing a shot, and finished with 56, the third-highest total in NBA playoff history. However, Barkley's ailing back gave way in the conference semifinals against eventual champ Houston, as the Suns lost in seven.

RELOADING...

The 1994-95 squad featured six current or former All-Stars on the roster and looked primed to capture their first title, but injuries haunted the club. The most severe injury came when the team was playing at its best. On February 6, 1995, with the Suns holding the league's best record at 36-10, newly acquired free agent Danny Manning tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee. He would miss the rest of the season.

The 1995 All-Star game was held at America West Arena, as Barkley and Majerle were starters on the winning West squad coached by Westphal. After the break, the team managed to win their second Pacific Division title in three seasons and earn the No. 2 seed in the playoffs behind San Antonio. The Suns swept Portland in the first round and faced Houston for the second-straight season in the semifinals. The Suns won three of the first four, but the Rockets won three-straight and claimed their second-straight title.

A 41-41 record in 1995-96 marked the first time in seven seasons that the club failed to win 50 or more games. Phoenix also endured 26 lineup changes and missed 296 games due to injury or illness. Barkley became the 10th player in history to reach 20,000 points and 10,000 rebounds. Michael Finley, the 21st pick in the draft, earned first-team All-Rookie honors. Fitzsimmons, in his third stint as head coach of the Suns, replaced Westphal on January 16 and went 27-22 the rest of the way. At the start of camp, the Suns acquired John "Hot Rod" Williams from Cleveland for Dan Majerle, Antonio Lang and a conditional first-round draft pick. The Suns entered the playoffs as the No. 7 seed in the West, but were without Finley, who suffered a sprained left ankle in the final quarter of the last game at Houston. For the first time since 1991, the Suns lost in the first-round, as San Antonio scored a 3-1 series win.

During the 1996 offseason, the Suns franchise added youth, athleticism and flexibility to their lineup. On August 19, Barkley was traded to Houston for Chucky Brown, Mark Bryant, Sam Cassell and Robert Horry.

JERRY COLANGELO
PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Phoenix Suns President and Chief Executive Officer Jerry Colangelo, winner of an unprecedented four National Basketball Association Executive of the Year Awards (1993, '89, '81, '76), once stated: This community owes us nothing. It is up to us to go out and earn their respect. Embarking on his 31st season in the NBA and his 29th with the Suns, Colangelo has achieved that respect through hard work and a commitment to the state of Arizona that transcends the game of basketball.

A LONG HISTORY OF SUCCESS

With Colangelo's guidance and knowledge, the Suns posted seven consecutive 50-plus win seasons from 1988 to 1995, including a franchise-best 62 wins in 1992-93. The club advanced to the Western Conference Finals three of those seven seasons, earning a trip to the NBA Finals in 1993. Over the previous eight seasons (1988-96), the Suns' regular season record of 435-221 (.663) ranks second in the NBA behind Chicago at 461-195 (.702). In fact, over the last 20 seasons the Suns rank as the NBA's fourth-winningest franchise (952-688, .580). In 1995, Colangelo was ranked as the 20th most powerful person in sports by The Sporting News, and has been named most influential businessperson in the Valley of the Sun for the third-straight year by The Arizona Business Journal.

BUILDING A TITLE CONTENDER

Since assuming the responsibilities of president and CEO in October 1987, Colangelo has never wandered from the original mandate given to him on March 2, 1968. Build a first-class organization, and make it a winner. His bold moves have helped establish the Suns as one of the elite NBA franchises. On February 25, 1988, the Suns acquired future All-Star Kevin Johnson, Mark West, Ty Corbin and a first-round pick from Cleveland in exchange for Larry Nance and Mike Sanders. That pick would become future All-Star Dan Majerle. In May 1988, he named Cotton Fitzsimmons as head coach (his second stint at the helm of the Suns), and in July, inked the first unrestricted free agent in NBA history, Tom Chambers. By the end of the 1988-89 season, the Suns had posted 55 wins, 27 more than the previous season, one of the best single season turnarounds in NBA history.

Phoenix maintained that success over the next three seasons, reaching the Western Conference Finals in 1990. But Colangelo wasn't finished. On June 17, 1992, he acquired future Hall of Famer Charles Barkley from Philadelphia in exchange for Jeff Hornacek, Andrew Lang and Tim Perry. Danny Ainge, the man who will eventually replace Cotton Fitzsimmons as head coach of the Suns, was signed on July 3, 1992. The revitalized club, playing in the new America West Arena, enjoyed its best season ever in 1992-93. The Suns won their second Pacific Division and Western Conference titles and finished with the league's best record at 62-20.

AMERICA WEST ARENA

Colangelo's vision of what a downtown sports arena would mean to the city of Phoenix became shining reality in June 1992. The 19,023-seat America West Arena became the centerpiece for a downtown revitalization process that has made Phoenix one of the most admired cities in America. Under his direction it was designed, and it is under his guidance that it is managed. The arena has played host to the world's best concerts, family shows and sporting events, including the 1995 NBA All-Star Game.

A "MAJOR LEAGUE" CITY DIAMONDBACKS IN 1998

In addition to his leadership of the Suns, Colangelo was the guiding force for an investment group which, on March 9, 1995, landed Arizona's first Major League Baseball franchise — the Arizona Diamondbacks. The official ground-breaking of BANK ONE BALLPARK followed on November 16, 1995. The new 45,000-seat, retractable dome stadium is held in a public-private partnership with Maricopa County. He serves on both the MLB Legislative Committee and Equal Opportunity Committee.

His efforts to bring professional hockey to the Valley came to fruition in December 1995 when the National Hockey League's Winnipeg Jets — re-named the Phoenix Coyotes — announced plans to relocate to the Valley and begin the 1996-97 season in America West Arena. Colangelo arranged the leasing agreement for the Coyotes to play in the arena. Phoenix is one of only 11 cities in the United States with franchises in all four major sports, joining Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Denver, Detroit, Miami, New York/New Jersey, Philadelphia, San Francisco Bay Area, and Washington D.C./Baltimore.

SUCCESS STARTS AT THE TOP

As the old adage goes, success starts at the top. For the past 29 years the man at the top has been Colangelo. On March 2, 1968, the Suns' ownership group was looking for a bright, ambitious, highly-qualified individual to run their operation. The 28-year old Colangelo fit the description. When he assumed his duties, he was the youngest general manager in professional team sports. His tenure running the same franchise is exceeded only by the legendary Red Auerbach of the Boston Celtics, who has been an NBA fixture since its formation in 1946. Colangelo continued as general manager until October 14, 1987 when he led a group of investors that purchased the franchise for $44.5 million. Since that time, he has served as president and chief executive officer.

The on-court success has triggered new team attendance records. The Suns' first season in America West Arena set a record for single season attendance (779,943), a feat matched in each of the last three seasons. Phoenix's regular season sell-out streak is 264 games, the fifth longest streak in the NBA.

He serves on the NBA's Board of Governors, the NBA Finance Committee and the league's Long Range Planning Committee. He was chairman of the Expansion Committee that welcomed Vancouver and Toronto into the NBA and also served as chairman of the Competition and Rules Committee for four years.

IN THE COMMUNITY

Colangelo has distinguished himself as one of the Valley's most active community leaders. He is on the Board of Directors of the Phoenix Art Museum, Greater Phoenix Economic Council, Phoenix Community Alliance and Phoenix Suns Charities. He serves as vice president of the Phoenix Downtown Partnership and is chairman of Southwest Leadership Foundation. He is a lifetime member of the Phoenix Thunderbirds, an organization dedicated to the promotion of Phoenix through sports. He is a former president of Valley Big Brothers and is currently chairman of the board for the Christian Businessmen's Club. He is also a director and principal of Stratford American Corporation, a real estate development company.

Throughout his career, Colangelo has been a recipient of numerous distinguished awards and honors. A member of the Arizona State University College of Business Dean's Council of 100, he was named 1990 Phoenix Entrepreneur of the Year by the ASU College of Business and was honored in 1991 by the Phoenix Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America for exemplary corporate public relations.

The year 1996 has been fruitful for Colangelo. On May 19, he was awarded an honorary doctorate from Franklin Pierce College in Rindge, New Hampshire. In addition, the Phoenix Urban League awarded him the 1996 Whitney M. Young Jr. Award for his work in the areas of community service, equal opportunity and commitment to fostering economic growth and creating jobs for residents of the Greater Phoenix area. In November 1996, the "Jerry Colangelo Athletic Center" is to be established at Washington Junior High School in Chicago Heights, Illinois. And in October 1996, he was honored by the National Italian American Foundation with its Special Achievement Award.

HOW IT ALL BEGAN

He began his sports management career as head scout and director of merchandising for the Chicago Bulls when they entered the NBA in 1966. He later became executive assistant to Dick Klein, then president and GM of the Bulls, and now a Suns scout.

In addition to his front office duties, Colangelo has twice stepped in to coach the Suns. He took over for Johnny Kerr January 2, 1970 and guided the club to a 24-20 mark and its first playoff appearance. He also replaced Butch van Breda Kolff early in the 1972-73 season and compiled a 35-40 mark. Overall, he owns a 59-60 record as an NBA coach.

Colangelo enrolled at the University of Kansas, but transferred after his prospective teammate, Wilt Chamberlain, left the Jayhawks for a pro contract. He transferred to the University of Illinois, where he earned All-Big Ten honors, averaging 15 points. He captained the Illini team as a senior and was later inducted into the Illinois Basketball Hall of Fame. He also played two years of baseball at Illinois.

Colangelo prepped at Bloom Township High in Chicago Heights, IL. An All-State honoree as a senior, he led his teams to a 49-8 mark with two appearances in the Illinois State Championship Tournament. A left-hander, he was the top pitcher on the baseball team that featured former Yankee hurler Jim Bouton. Upon graduation he had 66 scholarship offers for college basketball and seven for professional baseball contracts.

Colangelo was born on November 20, 1939 and grew up in the "Hungry Hill" neighborhood of Chicago Heights. He and wife, Joan, have four children: Kathy Holcombe, Kristen Brubaker, Bryan, and Mandie, and five granddaughters, all of Phoenix.

He has overseen the business administration, team operations and marketing sales of the Rattlers and other exhibition events including tennis, hockey, boxing and volleyball, while also serving on the Executive Committee of the AFL. Highlights of his involvement with PAS include the 1994 World Championship campaign (the state of Arizona's first) of the Rattlers, and his selection as the AFL's 1993 Executive of the Year.

A 1983 graduate of Central High in Phoenix, Colangelo remains an active community leader. He serves on the board of directors of the Arizona Sports Council (Grand Canyon State Games), Phoenix Suns Charities, Home Base Youth Services, and Phoenix Chamber of Commerce. COTTON FITZSIMMONS
HEAD COACH & SENIOR EXEC. VICE PRESIDENT

On January 17, 1996, the Suns welcomed back to the sidelines Lowell "Cotton" Fitzsimmons, one of the NBA's most respected teachers and colorful personalities. During his storied 20-year NBA coaching career that began in 1970, Cotton has compiled a record of 832-767 (.521), No. 7 on the NBA's all-time victories list behind Don Nelson (851-629), Jack Ramsay (864-783), Bill Fitch (891-995), Dick Motta (918-965), Red Auerbach (938-479) and Lenny Wilkens (1,014-850). He ranks No. 3 among active coaches in that same category. Cotton has earned two NBA Coach of the Year Awards (1979 with Kansas City and 1989 with Phoenix). This season marks his eighth as head coach of the Suns.

COTTON'S GOLDEN TOUCH

Cotton left the sidelines following the 1991-92 season after guiding Phoenix to four straight 50-plus win seasons and two trips to the Western Conference Finals (1989, '90). From 1988-92, Phoenix's 217-111 (.662) record trailed only the L.A. Lakers, Portland Trail Blazers, Chicago Bulls and Detroit Pistons.

He continues to serve as senior executive vice president, a position he has held since 1992, assisting President and Chief Executive Officer Jerry Colangelo as a consultant in overall team operations. He was chief color analyst on KTAR Radio and KUTP-TV broadcasts alongside voice of the Suns Al McCoy from 1992 until returning to the bench this past January.

In 1991-92, the Suns, known as "the Cotton Express" for their high-octane offense during his four-year tenure, finished 53-29. He was selected Coach of the Month for December following an 11-1 mark. He recorded his 800th career victory March 31, 1992 versus Portland, becoming only the sixth coach in NBA history to reach that milestone. In 1990-91, the Suns went 55-27, including 23 road wins. In 1989-90, the Suns, 54-28, advanced to the Western Conference Finals after defeating the Lakers for the first time in a playoff series. The season included a stretch of 19 straight wins at home and 10 straight in January.

The 1988-89 season was magical as the Suns won 27 more games than the previous season (55-27), which at the time was the third-biggest turnaround in NBA history. It was the first time in Cotton's NBA coaching career that he led a team to 50 or more wins. The Suns made the playoffs for the first time in four seasons and earned a berth in the Western Conference Finals. He was named Coach of the Month for April and was ultimately honored as Coach of the Year by the NBA, The Sporting News and Basketball Weekly.

Cotton was named head coach of the Suns for the second time May 10, 1988, a year after being named the club's first director of player personnel. On February 25, 1988, he helped orchestrate the trade which sent All-Star Larry Nance, Mike Sanders, and a first-round pick ('88) to Cleveland for eventual All-Star Kevin Johnson, Mark West, Tyrone Corbin, and first and second-round picks. Dan Majerle was tabbed with that first-round pick in the 1988 NBA Draft.

EARNING HIS NBA STRIPES

Cotton, fresh from the college coaching ranks at Kansas State, began his NBA career with Phoenix in 1970 and finished 97-67 during two seasons. He coached the San Antonio Spurs from 1984-86 and led them to the playoffs in each of those seasons. From 1978-84 he coached the Kansas City Kings and was named NBA Coach of the Year in 1979 after a first-place finish in the Midwest Division. Prior to joining the Kings, he coached the Buffalo Braves for one season (1977-78) and Atlanta for four seasons (1972-76). During 1976-77, he served as director of player personnel for the Golden State Warriors.

Cotton began his coaching career in 1958 at Moberly (MO) Junior College. In nine seasons, he amassed a 223-59 (.791) record, including a 31-2 mark in 1966-67. His teams won JUCO titles in 1966 and '67 and he was named Coach of the Year following each of those seasons. He then moved to Kansas State as an assistant to Fred "Tex" Winter and took over as head coach in 1968. Named Big Eight Coach of the Year in 1970, he led the Wildcats to the Big Eight Championship and into the NCAA Tournament regional semifinals.

WHERE IT ALL BEGAN

Cotton's playing days began at Bowling Green (MO) High where he was named All-State at guard as a junior and senior. He then played at Hannibal-LaGrange (MO) Junior College, averaging 25.5 points in 1952-53 on his way to JUCO All-American honors. He played the next three seasons at Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls, TX, averaging 13.3 points.

Cotton was inducted into the Missouri Basketball Hall of Fame in 1988, the National Junior College Hall of Fame in 1985, and the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame in 1981. In 1995 he was named NAIA Alumnus of the Year.

Born October 7, 1931 in Hannibal, MO, he and wife JoAnn reside in Phoenix. His son, Gary, is the director of player personnel for the Cleveland Cavaliers. He has also worked on national television where fans across the country have enjoyed his broadcasting insights on playoff telecasts (TNT and NBC). He is the proud grandfather of both Tim and Kelly.

BASKETBALL STAFF

DANNY AINGE
ASSISTANT COACH

Danny Ainge was named assistant coach on May 30, 1996. One of the NBA's toughest competitors, Ainge's basketball smarts and on-the-court leadership was reason enough for Jerry Colangelo to select him as the man who will ultimately take the helm of the Suns.

His remarkable 14-year NBA playing career began in 1981 when the World Champion Boston Celtics made the 6-foot-5 guard a second-round choice (31st overall). After seven-plus seasons with the Celtics which included two World Championships in 1984 and '86 and an All-Star season in 1988, he was traded with Brad Lohaus to Sacramento on February 23, 1989 for Ed Pinckney and Joe Kleine. Following 1989-90, he was traded to Portland for Byron Irvin and two draft picks.

After two seasons with the Blazers, Ainge joined the Suns as a free agent on July 3, 1992 and spent three seasons in the Valley. In his first year, the Suns challenged Chicago in the 1993 NBA Finals. Ainge has made six trips to the Finals, four with Boston (1984, '85, '86, '87), one each with Portland (1992) and Phoenix (1993). Amazingly, Ainge has played on six teams that won 60 or more games and two that reached the 59-win mark.

Over his NBA playing career, he averaged 11.5 points, hitting .469 from the field, including .378 accuracy from three-point range. He still holds records for most three-pointers made and attempted in the playoffs and shares the NBA Finals record for most points in an overtime period (9 vs. Chicago, June 5, 1992). Ainge is one of four players in NBA history to make 1,000 or more career three-pointers (1,002), joining Reggie Miller, Dale Ellis and Chuck Person. His 193 career playoff games trails Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's 237 for most in league history.

Ainge enjoyed a story-book career at Brigham Young University from 1977-81. He won the 1981 John Wooden and Eastman Awards as the nation's best college basketball player following a senior season in which he averaged 24.4 points. His legend blossomed at North Eugene (OR) High, following a career that included All-American honors in basketball, football and baseball. Selected by the Toronto Blue Jays in the 1977 free agent draft (15th round), he played three seasons of Major League baseball while still attending BYU.

Born Daniel Ray Ainge on March 17, 1959 in Eugene, OR, he and wife Michele live in Gilbert, AZ with their six children: Ashlee, Austin, Tanner, Taylor, Cooper and Crew. He served as color analyst for NBA games on TNT during the 1995-96 season. He is active with the Children's Miracle Network and Special Olympics and owns and operates The National Hat Club (1-888-HAT-HEAD), with several stores in Phoenix. He also plays golf on the Celebrity Golf Association Tour (Ainge sports an impressive seven-handicap).

PAUL SILAS
ASSISTANT COACH

Embarking on his 31st season as an NBA player or coach and second as a Suns assistant, Paul Silas continues to add to a resume which marks him as one of the most respected teachers of the NBA game.

Known as "Papa Paul", Silas has played with the best and has coached with the best. Last season, he was top assistant to both Cotton Fitzsimmons and Paul Westphal. Prior to his arrival in Phoenix on June 1, 1995, he served a total of four seasons in New Jersey (1992-95, 1988-89), including two seasons under Hall of Famer Chuck Daly. From 1989-92, he spent three seasons across the river as an assistant in New York with future Hall of Famer Pat Riley. From 1980-83, Silas was head coach of the San Diego Clippers (78-168 record).

During his 16-year NBA career, the 6-foot-7 forward was a four-time All-Star. He was a ferocious rebounder who logged 12,357 career boards, one of only 13 players in league history to tally 12,000 or more. His 14 trips to the playoffs included three world titles, two with the Boston Celtics (1974, '76) and one with the Seattle Supersonics (1979).

A second-round pick of the St. Louis Hawks in the 1964 NBA Draft, Silas played five seasons there before being traded to Phoenix May 8, 1969 for Gary Gregor. As a Sun (1969-72), he averaged 14.1 points and 12.1 rebounds, and in his first season, Phoenix made its first-ever playoff appearance. He joins Neal Walk as the only Suns to have grabbed 1,000 rebounds in a season with Silas grabbing 1,015 in 1970-71. Voted to the 1972 All-Star team, he was a two-time All-Defensive first-team selection (1975, '76) and three-time second-team pick (1971, '72, '73).

A 1963 graduate of Creighton University, Silas was the NCAA's top rebounder as a senior (20.6 rpg) and is one of only six players in NCAA history to have averaged 20 points and 20 rebounds in a single season, joining Walt Dukes, Bill Russell, Julius Erving, Artis Gilmore and Kermit Washington.

Born Paul Theron Silas on July 12, 1943 in Prescott, AR, he attended McClymonds High in Oakland, CA. He and wife, Carolyn, have two children: Paula (28) and Stephen (22). He hosts an annual corporate basketball tourney in New York featuring former NBA greats to raise funds for Special Olympics.

DONN NELSON
ASSISTANT COACH

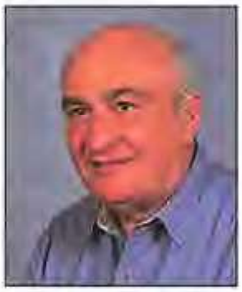
Entering his 10th season as an NBA coach or scout and his second season as a Suns assistant, Donn Nelson provides the coaching staff with a wealth of energy, creativity and basketball knowledge as one of the NBA's rising young coaching talents.

When he arrived in Phoenix on July 26, 1995, the Suns gained an assistant with a knack for developing young talent. Last season, he helped instruct Phoenix's two first-round draft picks, Michael Finley and Mario Bennett. Finley was named first-team NBA All-Rookie. In 1994-95, he was top assistant with Golden State and served a total of eight seasons in the Bay Area, three as a scout and five as an assistant under his father, Don Nelson. In 1994-95, he was interim head coach when his father missed 10 games with an illness. The Warriors went 4-6, but lost to Orlando in overtime and to Houston on a last-gasp shot.

Regarded as an authority on international basketball, this past summer Nelson was an assistant to the Lithuanian Olympic Basketball team, featuring Sarunas Marciulionis and Arvydas Sabonis, and helped guide them to a bronze medal in the 1996 Atlanta Olympics. It was his second Olympic appearance, having served as an assistant with the bronze medal-winning Lithuanian team at the 1992 Barcelona Games. He was also a scout for Team USA at the 1994 World Championships in Toronto, a squad that included Kevin Johnson.

While with the Warriors, he was responsible for signing the first player from the former Soviet Union to an NBA contract (Marciulionis) and is the only American coach to participate in a Soviet National training camp.

Born September 10, 1962, he and wife Lotta, a native of Sweden, reside in Phoenix and have two children: Christie (4) and D.J. (2). A 1986 graduate of Wheaton (IL) College with a physical education degree, Nelson was an all-conference guard and three-year captain for the Crusaders. Following college, he played with Athletes in Action, a team of Christian basketball players.



DICK PERCUDANI
DIRECTOR OF SCOUTING

As he begins his 14th season with the Suns and his third as the club's director of scouting, Dick Percudani has established himself as one of the NBA's finest talent evaluators. "Perc" began his Suns career in 1983 as the club's East Coast college scout following a successful and trail-blazing coaching career on the high school, college and professional levels.

After his 1957 graduation from Georgetown University, Percudani became an assistant at his high school alma mater, Power Memorial Academy in New York. With a kid named Lew Alcindor (a.k.a. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar) at center, Power became the nation's top-ranked team in 1965-66.

In 1966, Percudani became the first American head coach in the Italian Pro Leagues, where he was named Rookie Coach of the Year with Milan. In 1970, he returned to the United States as an assistant at Fairfield (CT) University and helped lead the squad to its first-ever berth in the National Invitational Tournament. He was then an assistant at Sacred Heart University and helped lead the club to the NCAA Division II Final Four in 1976-77.

Prior to joining Phoenix in 1983, Percudani re-familiarized himself with the European basketball community as head coach of Varese and as director of scouting for the Italian Pro Leagues.

He and wife Amelia reside in Fairfield, CT, and have five children: Louisa, Carol, Richard, Stephen and Paul.

TODD QUINTER
NBA SCOUT

Now in his 11th season with the Suns organization and fifth as NBA scout, Todd Quinter has seen his duties expand dramatically since joining the club in 1986 as video coordinator.

As the club's advance scout, "TQ" will once again aid the coaching staff in their game preparation for upcoming opponents. This past summer, Quinter served as assistant coach for the Suns' summer league squads and will continue to assist in the coordination of the club's rookie, free agent and training camps. Additionally, he served as coordinator of the 1996 NIKE Desert Classic.

Born December 18, 1958 in Nazareth, PA, Quinter guided Nazareth Area High to the league title before heading to Lebanon Valley College (Annville, PA) where he broke three school records in four seasons at guard, and was twice named team Most Valuable Player.

He and wife Kim had their first child, Jacob David, on March 13, 1995. He also has a son, Adam (12). Quinter is a cousin to singer/actor Glenn Frey, formerly of the Eagles.

BASKETBALL STAFF

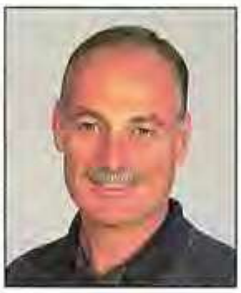
AL BIANCHI
COLLEGE SCOUT

Al Bianchi, whose wealth of experience spans more than 30 years, is in his 16th season with the Suns, third as college scout. An assistant to John MacLeod in 1976, he spent 12 seasons in that role before returning home to serve as general manager of the New York Knicks (1987-91). Prior to re-joining the Suns full-time, he spent two seasons as a regional scout for both the Suns and Miami Heat.

Bianchi began his pro coaching career in 1966 as an assistant with the expansion Chicago Bulls. He served as head coach of the NBA's Seattle SuperSonics (1967-69) and the ABA's Washington Capitals-Virginia Squires (1969-76). With Virginia, he signed Julius Erving and George Gervin to their first pro contracts.

Bianchi led Bowling Green University to a National Invitational Tournament berth in 1954. Following a two-year stint with the Army Medical Corps, he began the first of his 10 professional seasons (1956-66) with the ABA's Syracuse Nationals-NBA's Philadelphia 76ers.

Born March 26, 1932, Bianchi, a native of Long Island City, NY, holds a degree in education-history. He resides in Phoenix and has six children.



GARRICK BARR
VIDEO COACH

This season marks Garrick Barr's fifth as video coach. Under Barr's direction, the Suns have effectively blended scouting and computer technology. Barr introduced the first digital editing system used in professional sports, which provides the Suns coaching staff with unprecedented speed and versatility in video scouting. He also helped develop PSCSS, a college scouting system that allows the club's scouts around the country to efficiently coordinate their evaluative efforts.

Barr played four seasons at the University of California, Irvine while earning a degree in philosophy. As a standout performer at Aviation High in Redondo Beach, CA, he teamed with former Suns player and coach Paul Westphal.

A gifted musician, Barr plays saxophone in a local contemporary jazz group, Desert Wind. He has one daughter, Autumn Melody (7).

TRAINING ROOM

JOE PROSKI
HEAD TRAINER

Embarking on his 30th NBA season and 29th with the Suns, Joe Proski is the only trainer the team has ever had. While his "magic fingers" have been soothing aches and pains of Suns players since 1968, Proski also serves as on-the-road controller, handling the club's hectic travel schedule. Additionally, he supervises the training staff for all sporting events in the America West Arena.

One of Arizona's most colorful sports figures, Proski was named "Sports Personality of the Year" by the Phoenix Press Box Association in 1979. From 1978-88, he served as the western representative for the National Basketball Trainers Association (NBTA). In 1988, he became only the 10th NBA trainer honored as Trainer of the Year by the NBTA.

Proski has been a trainer at four NBA All-Star games. Prior to joining the Suns, he worked with Los Angeles Dodgers, Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers, as well as the Chicago Bulls in their first NBA season.

Proski works on his vintage 1953 Bentley and 1950 Mercury while at home. The custom Merc is a candy-grape show-winner and won four first-place prizes at the 25th Anniversary of "World of Wheels." He and wife, Jan, have two children: Jolene and Jori.

Home: 4-1 Away: 1-5

The Suns won three of their first four, including wins over San Antonio and Utah... On April 2, the Suns snapped San Antonio's franchise-record 17-game winning streak with a 111-104 home win... Kevin Johnson was named NBA Player of the Week (April 7) when he averaged 21.5 points, 11.0 assists and 4.0 rebounds... The club dealt with injuries late in the season as Charles Barkley, John Williams, Joe Kleine, Danny Manning and KJ combined to miss 19 games... Kleine endured a scary moment as he fainted and collapsed during the national anthem prior to Phoenix's game at the Lakers on April 14 (all tests were negative)... Michael Finley missed the playoffs after suffering a sprained left ankle in the last quarter of the last game of the season at Houston... Phoenix lost five of their last seven, including a 24-point loss (79-103) at Utah on April 10, the biggest loss margin of the season... Wayman Tisdale showed offensive muscle averaging 17.1 points over the last seven games... Wesley Person re-emerged from a shooting slump and averaged a team-best 18.4 points... Down the stretch, the Suns claimed the No. 7 seed in the West, but lost to San Antonio, 3-1, in the first-round.

1995-96 TEAM NOTES

A .500 Kind of Season...

With the injury bug biting at the heels of the Suns throughout much of the season, the club finished 41-41 overall, their first season of less than 50 wins since 1987-88... The club was 25-16 at home and 16-25 on the road (it was the first time since 1991-92 that the club had lost more than 23 road games)... The Suns were 25-25 in games decided by 10 points or less, including 13-13 in games decided by five or less... The team turned in two months of .500 ball (December 7-7 and March 8-8).

Versus the Best in 1995-96...

The Suns were 4-16 overall (0-10 on the road) versus the top five teams in the West (Seattle, San Antonio, Utah, L.A. Lakers, Houston)... The four wins came against San Antonio, Utah, L.A. Lakers and Houston... The club was 8-20 (.285) versus Western Conference Playoff teams.

Hits & Misses...

The Suns averaged 14.7 turnovers, the seventh-lowest average in the NBA... The club finished 10-8 in the first game of back-to-back sets and 5-13 in the second game... The Suns followed up a 114-99 win at Miami (Jan. 30) with a 120-84 win at Atlanta (Jan. 31) for their only back-to-back victories... Although the Suns were the NBA's fourth-highest scoring team at 104.3 points per game, it was the lowest average since a team record-low 101.2 clip in 1974-75.

Injury Bug Strikes... Again and Again...

The Suns missed 296 games due to injury or illness, the second-highest total in the league behind New Jersey's 301... Five players missed 26 or more games while three primary starters — Charles Barkley (11), John Williams (18) and Kevin Johnson (26) — combined to miss 55 games... The club was forced to use 26 starting lineups and were 2-9 when playing with nine or fewer players, including 1-4 with just eight healthy players.

A Storm of Three-Pointers...

The Suns, one of the NBA's long-range bomb squads over the last few seasons, averaged just 8.5 three-point attempts in the 49 games following the coaching change in January... The squad had averaged a whopping 17 attempts in 33 games prior to the change... Suns opponents, however, kept the tradition alive by averaging 18.2 per game, the second-highest number in the NBA.

The Sell-Out Streak Continues...

Loyal fans and high energy basketball have helped the Suns establish a regular season sell-out streak of 264 games, the fifth longest streak in the NBA... The club ranked eighth in the NBA last season in home attendance (19,023) and fifth in road attendance (18,208) behind L.A. Lakers (18,263), New York (18,323), Orlando (19,209) and Chicago (19,949)... Phoenix's sell-out streak began February 30, 1990 versus Houston at Veterans Memorial Coliseum... The Suns have sold-out 164 straight at America West Arena... Including playoff games, the Suns have a 297 game sell-out streak.

From the Charity Stripe...

The Suns ranked No. 2 in free throw percentage, hitting .773, their best team percentage since 1991-92 (.776)... The club led the NBA with averages of 23.3 free throw makes and 30.2 attempts per game... Kevin Johnson, No. 12 in the NBA at .850, had his best season since a career-best mark of .882 in 1988-89.

Finley Joins "Sweet D" and "Double A"...

With his sixth point at Golden State on March 23, Michael Finley became the first Suns rookie since Walter Davis to score 1,000 points... Davis scored 1,959 in 1977-78 and Alvan Adams tallied 1,516 in 1975-76... Both earned Rookie of the Year honors... Finley was named All-Rookie first-team, the first Sun to earn that distinction since Armon Gilliam in 1988 (also on the first-team were Damon Stoudamire, Jerry Stackhouse, Joe Smith, Antonio McDyess and Arvydas Sabonis).

In Rare Company...

Both Charles Barkley and Kevin Johnson achieved major career milestones... Barkley became the 10th player in NBA history (Wilt Chamberlain, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Elvin Hayes, Moses Malone, Robert Parish, Walt Bellamy, Bob Pettit, Elgin Baylor, Hakeem Olajuwon) and the third active player (Parish, Olajuwon) to tally 20,000 points and 10,000 rebounds with his first board vs. Vancouver on February 19... On April 2 vs. San Antonio, KJ became the 22nd NBA player all-time, fifth among active players (Terry Porter, Clyde Drexler, Derek Harper, John Stockton), to record 11,000 points and 5,000 assists.

1996 PLAYOFF REVIEW

First-Round (1-3)
Phoenix Suns vs. San Antonio Spurs

The Suns' win over Dallas on April 19 clinched the No. 7 seed in the Western Conference and their eighth-straight playoff appearance. The trip, however, was cut short when for the first time since 1991, Phoenix was eliminated in the first-round. It was also the first time in three tries that the Spurs knocked them from postseason play. Rookie Michael Finley suffered a sprained left ankle in the final period of the last game of the season at Houston and was unable to return for the playoffs.

Down 0-2 in the series, the Suns battled back to win Game Three, a game that featured 23 lead changes and 15 ties. San Antonio's David Robinson had career playoff highs of 40 points and 21 rebounds to help doom the Suns in Game Two despite Charles Barkley's 30 points and 20 rebounds and Kevin Johnson's 16 assists. In Game One, unlikely Spurs hero, Will Perdue, tallied 17 points off the bench as the Spurs outscored Phoenix, 66-38, in the paint.

HISTORY

On January 22, 1968 the NBA Board of Governors granted a franchise to the city of Phoenix. On April 25, 1968, the name "SUNS" was selected in a contest sponsored by The Arizona Republic. The winning entry was submitted by Mrs. Selinda King of Phoenix.

The Suns began building their team by naming Johnny "Red" Kerr as head coach. Kerr, who had coached the Chicago Bulls for the previous two years, was the NBA's Coach of the Year in 1967. Next was the 1968 NBA College Draft. Their first selection was Gary Gregor, a 6-7 forward from South Carolina. They continued to build the young squad by making Dick Van Arsdale the first player taken in the expansion draft. Van Arsdale had played the previous three years with New York. Phoenix also selected guard Gail Goodrich, a three-year-pro, from the Los Angeles Lakers.

On October 18, the Suns opened their rookie season with a 116-107 victory over Seattle as 7,112 fans filled Veterans Memorial Coliseum. Goodrich, now in the NBA Hall of Fame, led the team with 27 points, 10 assists and nine rebounds while Van Arsdale pitched in 21 points. The Suns went on to finish the month with a 4-3 mark. But that was the last time they would be above .500 as they suffered through the rest of their first season to finish with a 16-66 record.

Goodrich and Van Arsdale led the Suns averaging 23.8 and 21.0 points per game, respectively. Goodrich finished sixth in the league in scoring and third as a guard behind Baltimore's Earl Monroe and Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson. Both players also appeared in the 1969 NBA All-Star game in Baltimore.

FRONT ROW: Gail Goodrich, Stan McKenzie, Dick Van Arsdale, Bob Warlick, Dick Snyder.

With the addition of veterans Paul Silas and Connie Hawkins, the young Suns enjoyed a 13-game turnaround and a trip to their first-ever NBA playoffs. Silas, obtained in a trade with Atlanta for Gary Gregor, gave the team additional inside strength as he averaged nearly 12 rebounds per game. Following a legendary two-year stint in the ABA and one year with the world-famous Harlem Globetrotters, Hawkins provided amazing offensive talents.

On January 2, with the Suns at 15-23, Head Coach Johnny Kerr resigned just five hours prior to that night's game against San Diego. General Manager Jerry Colangelo took over as head coach and led the Suns to a 24-20 mark over the rest of the season and their first-ever trip to the NBA Playoffs.

The Suns drew the mighty L.A. Lakers in the first round and dropped the opening game in Los Angeles, 112-128. But the Suns showed character as they picked up the next three games behind superb play from Silas, Hawkins and Gail Goodrich. However, the likes of Wilt Chamberlain, Jerry West and Elgin Baylor were too much for the Suns as the Lakers clinched the series in seven games.

Dick Van Arsdale made his second appearance in the All-Star game along with the team's scoring leader Hawkins. The Hawk also earned first-team All-NBA honors.

FRONT ROW: Art Harris, Dick Van Arsdale, Stan McKenzie, Gail Goodrich.

Dick Van Arsdale returned for his third season with Phoenix as the only original Sun remaining. Offseason trades brought veterans Mel Counts and Clem Haskins to the team. In spite of the success the club enjoyed at the tail-end of the 1969-70 season, General Manager Jerry Colangelo felt the Suns needed a "career" coach. He set out to find a teacher and a motivator who could mold the Suns' young players. On June 5, 1970, Lowell "Cotton" Fitzsimmons joined the Suns as head coach.

Fitzsimmons had led the Kansas State Wildcats to the Big Eight title the previous year, and brought a sense of passion and "Purple Pride" to the Valley. The club responded to his enthusiasm.

Phoenix posted its best finish with a 48-34 record, fourth best in the league. That included the team's best month ever with a 11-4 mark in January. However, due to the Suns' place in the tough Midwest Division, the team failed to make the playoffs.

Paul Silas led the team in rebounding for the second straight season pulling down a franchise-best 12.5 per game including a team record 27 vs. Cincinnati on January 18. Van Arsdale led the club in scoring with a 21.9 average while Connie Hawkins netted 20.9 per game. Van Arsdale and Hawkins were again named as NBA All-Stars.

Cotton Fitzsimmons began his second year at the helm with great anticipation. The Suns drafted Dennis "Moe" Layton, a 6-1 point guard from USC who played previously at Phoenix College. The Suns opened the season with a starting lineup of Clem Haskins and Dick Van Arsdale at guard, Neal Walk at center and Connie Hawkins and Paul Silas at the forward spots.

On March 14, the Suns obtained the rights to Charlie Scott from the Boston Celtics in exchange for future considerations. Scott, a 6-6 guard from North Carolina, had played for the Virginia Squires of the ABA, where he averaged 35 points per game and was the 1971 ABA Rookie of the Year along with Kentucky's Dan Issel.

Phoenix posted a club record mark of 49-33, improving for the fourth consecutive year. However, despite having the sixth best record in the NBA, the Suns finished behind Milwaukee and Chicago in the tough Midwest Division and failed to qualify for the playoffs.

Hawkins and Silas represented the West team in the All-Star Game. It was Hawkins' third straight appearance, as he led the West squad to a 112-110 win with 13 points.

Silas was named as the Suns' Most Valuable Player by the fans as he led the team in rebounding for the third straight year (11.9). Hawkins led the club in scoring with a 21.0 average while Van Arsdale added 19.7 points per game. The Suns topped their previous best in attendance totalling 342,922 fans, an average of 8,346 per contest. Phoenix also became only the fourth team in league history to lead the NBA in free throws attempted, free throws made and free throw accuracy.

The Suns began the season under the franchise's fourth head coach, Bill van Breda Kolff. Van Breda Kolff replaced Cotton Fitzsimmons, who left in the offseason to coach the Atlanta Hawks. However, seven games into the season, Van Breda Kolff was replaced and General Manager Jerry Colangelo once again assumed the coaching duties for the remainder of the season. He guided the Suns to a 35-40 record.

Phoenix played .500 ball throughout mid-January but struggled through the second half of the season, finishing third in the Pacific Division. The season did not lack for outstanding individual performances as Charlie Scott led the club in scoring with a franchise record 25.3 average and finished fifth in the NBA. He also became just he 10th guard in league history to score more than 2,000 points. Scott, along with Connie Hawkins, were named to the Western Conference All-Star team. It was Scott's first appearance while Hawkins was making his fourth consecutive visit.

John MacLeod took the Suns coaching reins from General Manager Jerry Colangelo during the offseason. The youthful MacLeod had coached the previous six years at the University of Oklahoma, leading the Sooners to a 90-69 won-loss record and two trips to the National Invitational Tournament.

New to the team were rookie Mike Bantom, the eighth pick in the 1973 NBA draft, and Keith Erickson, who was acquired in the first month of the season from the L.A. Lakers in exchange for All-Star and future Hall of Famer Connie Hawkins. Phoenix went on a 10-game skid early in the season as they were learning a new system under MacLeod and playing one of the roughest portions of their schedule. The Suns finished fourth in the Pacific Division with a 30-52 mark, their lowest number of wins since their inaugural season.

Charlie Scott made his second straight appearance in the All-Star Game after leading the Western Conference in scoring with a 26.6 average. He finished the season averaging 25.4 points per game but missed the final 29 games with a broken arm. Dick Van Arsdale averaged 17.8 points per game and led the Suns in field goal percentage (.500). Erickson was voted by fans as the Suns' Most Outstanding Player.

FRONT ROW: Bob Christian, Lamar Green, Neal Walk, Head Coach John MacLeod, Corky Calhoun, Mike Bantom, Keith Erickson.

The season was preceded by one of the largest transactions in Suns history with center Neal Walk and a second-round draft pick going to New Orleans in exchange for Curtis Perry, Dennis Awtrey, Nate Hawthorne and a first-round pick in 1976.

Also new to the team was rookie John Shumate, a 6-8 forward from Notre Dame who was the fourth pick in the 1974 NBA Draft. Unfortunately, Shumate had to sit out his rookie season so he could receive treatment for blood clots. Perry had his best season as a pro averaging 13 points and 12 rebounds per game, winning both the Suns' Most Outstanding and Most Popular Player awards.

Charlie Scott, who finished the season as the Suns' scoring leader (24.3), was the Suns' lone All-Star representative. On February 14, 1975, Phoenix became the "Professional Basketball Capital of the World." The 25th annual All-Star Game was the first one ever played in Phoenix. NBA Commissioner J. Walter Kennedy was presiding over his final NBA All-Star Game before retiring.

In late February, the Suns had a shot at the NBA Playoffs, but injuries to Dick Van Arsdale and Keith Erickson knocked them from contention. The Suns finished fourth in the Pacific Division with a 32-50 mark.

75 PHOENIX SUNS 76

The most exciting season in Suns history began with the Suns flying out of the gate with a 14-9 start, their best ever. A string of injuries and a puzzling mid-season slump had the Suns winning only four of their next 22, but after the All-Star break the Suns caught fire going 24-13 and storming into the playoffs against the Seattle SuperSonics. The team clinched its first playoff berth in six years by defeating the L.A. Lakers, 113-98, at Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

There were several reasons for the Suns' turnaround: a Charlie Scott for Paul Westphal trade in the off-season, the drafting of Alvan Adams and Ricky Sobers, the acquisition of Al Bianchi as assistant coach, and the mid-season trade that sent John Shumate to Buffalo and brought Garfield Heard to Phoenix.

Phoenix eliminated the Seattle Supersonics 4-2, then went on to upset the World Champion Golden State Warriors and Rick Barry, 4-3, and gain a berth in the NBA Finals against the fabled Boston Celtics, led by Dave Cowens and John Havlicek. The Suns lost the first two games in Boston, but came back to knot the series with a pair of victories in Phoenix.

Game Five will no doubt go down in basketball history as one of the most exciting games ever played: A triple overtime contest that eluded the Suns by a few precious seconds and cost them the World Championship. Boston won the series 4-2.

Alvan Adams was named the NBA Rookie of the Year and became only the 10th first-year player to be named to the mid-season All-Star Game. General Manager Jerry Colangelo was named NBA Executive of the Year by The Sporting News.

76 PHOENIX SUNS 77

It could have been the best of times. With the addition of first round draft pick Ron Lee, and Tom and Dick Van Arsdale playing together for the first time as pros, the Suns seemed certain to make another strong playoff run. Indeed, the Suns entered the year with the highest of expectations, but had to watch helplessly as injuries eventually claimed the entire starting front line.

Gar Heard and Curtis Perry each missed nearly half the season and Alvan Adams, who was injured in the fourth game of the season, didn't regain top form until February. The Suns had all players healthy and available for duty for only six games the entire season. The Suns finished 34-48, fifth in the Pacific Division.

Paul Westphal led the club in scoring (21.3) for the second straight season and was named to the All-NBA team for the first time in his career. Ron Lee was named to the All-Rookie team and the Suns set a new home attendance mark, averaging over 10,000 fans per game.

Westphal was voted to the starting unit of the West squad at the All-Star Game in Milwaukee, scored 20 points and nearly captured the game's MVP award. As a team, the Suns set a new assist record (2,100) breaking the record they set in 1975-76. At the conclusion of the season, both Van Arsdale's retired from the NBA.

On November 19, 1976, future Hall of Famer Connie Hawkins became the first Suns player to have his uniform number retired (42).

77 PHOENIX SUNS 78

The Suns announced a blockbuster trade just before the opening of the season: Ricky Sobers to Indiana for guard Don Buse, an All-Star and the NBA leader in both assists and steals. With Buse and rookie Walter Davis in the starting line-up, the Suns bolted from the gate and were 19-11 by Christmas and 34-16 by the February All-Star break. They finished with a 49-33 record, fourth best in basketball, but were second in the Pacific Division behind the formidable Portland Trail Blazers, led by Bill Walton.

It was a record year for the Suns in many ways. A franchise record was set for attendance (11,464 per game) and on the court, the Suns set NBA records for team steals in a season (1,059) as well as tying the league mark for assists (2,338). Davis and Paul Westphal were among the league's top 10 scorers, both averaging better than 24 points per game; both were named second-team All-NBA and both participated for the West at the All-Star Game in Atlanta.

At the All-Star break, the Suns lost Curtis Perry with back problems and went the rest of the season with five rookies on the roster, more than any other NBA club. In the opening round of the playoffs the Suns were upset in two straight games by the Milwaukee Bucks.

Davis went on to become the league's Rookie of the Year, the second such distinction for a Suns' player since Alvan Adams won the award following 1975-76. Buse was also named to the NBA All-Defensive team and Ron Lee led the league with 2.7 steals per game.

FRONT ROW: Head Coach John MacLeod, Paul Westphal, Don Buse, Trainer Joe Proski (kneeling), Greg Griffin, Walter Davis, Mike Bratz, Assistant Coach Al Bianchi.

78 79

Phoenix opened the regular season with the same starting lineup that began the 77-78 season: Walter Davis and Gar Heard at forward, Alvan Adams at center, with Paul Westphal and Don Buse at guard. Suns won five of their first six games and were 24-14 by January 1. By the All-Star break, Suns were 32-20. For the third straight year, Westphal was an All-Star starter, and Davis made it for the second straight year.

On January 12, 1979 the Suns obtained Leonard "Truck" Robinson from the New Orleans Jazz in exchange for Ron Lee, Marty Byrnes, first-round picks in 1979 and 1980 and undisclosed cash. With an emotional overtime win over Seattle at Phoenix March 30, the Suns qualified for the playoffs for the second year in a row and the fourth time in their 11 NBA seasons.

The regular season ended in spectacular fashion, with the Suns capturing a record 50th win in the season's 80th game.

Phoenix led the NBA in steals with 915 (11.2 per game). Westphal was named first-team All-NBA, Davis was named to the second-team. Buse was named to the All-Defensive squad. In the playoffs, the Suns got by Portland (2-1), thrashed Kansas City (4-1), but lost to eventual World Champion Seattle Supersonics, 3-4, in a hard-fought Western Conference Finals series.

79 PHOENIX SUNS 80

Phoenix opened the regular season on October 12 with a starting line-up of Walter Davis and Truck Robinson at forward, Alvan Adams at center and Don Buse and Paul Westphal at guard. The Suns were the only team in the NBA with five former All-Star participants as starters. By the All-Star break, Phoenix 35-19.

On February 15, the Suns obtained 7-0 center Rich Kelley from the New Jersey Nets in exchange for a second-round Suns draft pick in 1983, a first-round pick in 1982 and cash. The Suns chased Seattle and the L.A. Lakers for the Pacific Division lead for virtually the entire 82-game schedule, moving into a tie for the lead in late November and early December. For the majority of the season though, the Suns were ensconced in third place in the Pacific.

For the second season in a row Buse, Adams, Davis and Westphal all finished with over 300 assists, the only time in NBA history that four players on the same team had accomplished the feat. Davis and Westphal played in the NBA All-Star Game in Washington. Westphal was named first-team and Davis second-team on the post-season All-NBA squad. In the playoffs, the Suns defeated Kansas City, 2-1, then lost to the L.A. Lakers, 1-4.

In the winter of 1980, the Suns Gorilla arrived on the scene in the form of an Eastern Onion singing telegram messenger. He was invited back, and has "hung" around ever since.

FRONT ROW: Assistant Coach John Wetzel, Don Buse, Paul Westphal, Trainer Joe Proski (kneeling), Head Coach John MacLeod, Johnny High, Mike Bratz, Assistant Coach Al Bianchi.

When the Suns opened the season, questions surrounded newcomer Dennis Johnson, who had come to the Suns in a controversial deal that sent Paul Westphal to Seattle. There also were doubts about the Suns ability to adjust to the move of All-Star forward Walter Davis to the backcourt and the addition of Jeff Cook into the starting line-up at forward. The Suns responded with their most successful season ever, finishing with a club-record 57 wins en route to their first division title and clinching the best record in the Western Conference. Phoenix was out of first place for only two days.

The Suns' 36-5 home record tied their 1979-80 mark as the best in the club's history and their 21-20 record on the road was the first-ever winning road record. The Suns did not lose more than two games in a row all season.

The Suns played their 1,000th game November 12 , 1980, a 130-127 win over the visiting San Antonio Spurs.

The All-Star Game in Cleveland had a distinctive Phoenix flavor with John MacLeod and the Suns coaching staff at the helm of the West squad. Davis was voted to a starting forward position by the fans and Johnson and Truck Robinson were named to the team by a vote of Western Conference coaches. In the playoffs, the Suns were surprised by a gritty Kansas City Kings club, led by former Suns' coach Cotton Fitzsimmons, that took the Western Conference semi-finals 4-3. At season's end, Johnson was named to the All-NBA team and All-Defensive team. Suns General Manager Jerry Colangelo was named NBA Executive of the Year for the second time by The Sporting News.

The Suns were dealt a crippling blow just days before the season opened, when guard Walter Davis suffered a fractured elbow in the club's final pre-season game. Kyle Macy joined Dennis Johnson, Alvan Adams, Truck Robinson and Jeff Cook in the Suns' opening night starting lineup. Seeking the right combinations and the proper chemistry, 1981-82 became a season of constant change and experimentation.

Alvin Scott supplanted Cook in the starting lineup and later in the season Scott was supplanted by Adams, who shifted from his normal center position to allow Rich Kelley into the starting lineup. Davis began his comeback in late December, but it became clear his elbow, still joined by surgical tension wires and screws, would keep him from reaching top form. He was used in a sixth man role most of the year.

With a month to go in the season, the Suns found themselves embroiled in a heated Western Conference playoff race. The Suns finished the regular season with a 46-36 mark, good enough for third place in the NBA Pacific Division and a playoff berth. Phoenix opened postseason play by defeating Denver, 2-1, in a hard-fought mini-series, winning the deciding game on the Nuggets' home court. In the Western Conference semifinals, however, the Suns ran into a L.A. Lakers juggernaut and were swept by the Lakers (0-4) who went on to sweep San Antonio, then defeated Philadelphia to win the NBA Championship. Johnson was named to the NBA All-Defensive team and was the lone Suns representative at the mid-season All-Star Game in New Jersey.

82 PHOENIX SUNS 83

The Suns were ready for change. They traded Truck Robinson to New York for forward Maurice Lucas. They installed 6-10 second-year man Larry Nance at the small forward slot and welcomed back a healthy Walter Davis at guard. The only holdovers in the starting lineup from 1981-82 were center Alvan Adams and guard Dennis Johnson.

As the season progressed, so did Nance. He finished the year by leading the Suns in field goal percentage (.550) and set a new franchise record for blocked shots in a season with 217.

In spite of their success, the Suns had a glaring weakness at back-up center, where they juggled Jeff Cook, Joel Kramer and Lucas. With starting center Adams undersized at 6-9, the Suns needed help in the middle. So, Suns General Manager Jerry Colangelo traded Cook, cash, a third round draft pick in 1983 and other considerations to Cleveland in exchange for 7-1 center James Edwards, who was coming back after early season knee surgery.

From the All-Star break the Suns won 23 of the 30 games and finished the season as the hottest team in the league, winning six straight. Phoenix won 14 of its final 16 games and in the process matched its best-ever season road record (21-20). The Suns qualified for postseason play for the sixth straight year and the seventh time in eight seasons, but were eliminated by the Denver Nuggets, 2-1, in the opening round.

83 PHOENIX SUNS 84

Due to a flood of injuries to such key players as James Edwards, Rick Robey and Paul Westphal, Suns head coach John MacLeod was forced to juggle his starters, searching for a consistency that did not materialize until late in the season.

Walter Davis returned to the Western Conference All-Star squad and Larry Nance won the NBA Slam Dunk Championship in Denver.

The Suns struggled on the road. Only their fine home court record (31-10) kept them in the playoff race until the late stages of the season, when they put together six straight wins, their longest winning streak of the season.

The Suns saved their most remarkable performances for the playoffs. They defeated Portland in a hard-fought five-game first-round series, winning the fifth and deciding game on the Trailblazers' home court. They proceeded to upend Midwest Division Champion Utah in six games in the next round, highlighted by a remarkable 111-110 overtime win in Game Four at the Veterans Memorial Coliseum. The Suns then took on the L.A. Lakers in the Western Conference Finals. The Suns pushed the talented Lakers to six games, defeating them 135-127 in overtime in Game Three in Phoenix and staving off elimination with a 126-121 upset win in Los Angeles with a dogged performance in Game Five. The Suns were finally eliminated in Game Six, but only when their final shot didn't connect in a 99-97 nail-biter.

84 PHOENIX SUNS 85

The Suns addition of promising rookie guard Jay Humphries gave hope for the upcoming season. The optimism proved ephemeral, however, when the Suns' leading scorer and five-time All-Star, Walter Davis, crashed to the Inglewood Forum floor with three torn ligaments in his left knee. Davis would miss the first two-thirds of the season and would never regain full mobility during a courageous comeback attempt.

Rick Robey, Mike Sanders, Kyle Macy and Larry Nance also would miss considerable time due to injury, bringing the Suns total for the year to 266 player/games missed.

The Suns jumped out to a surprising 5-0 start, the best beginning in the history of the franchise. It was Nance who assumed the leadership role with Davis gone, leading the club in scoring (19.9) and virtually every other statistical category. Nance was named the NBA's first Player of the Week for the season and would go on to make his first appearance in an NBA All-Star Game.

The Suns ranked second in the NBA in assists (2335) dishing out over 2,000 for the 10th year in a row. They qualified for the playoffs, but were knocked out 3-0 in the first round by the L.A. Lakers.

The Suns averaged 12,035 fans per game, setting a new attendance record for the franchise, breaking the old mark of 11,883 per game set during the 1981-82 campaign.

The Suns ended the regular season with "Suns Reunion '85," bringing back 24 former Suns players and coaches to participate in a weekend of Suns nostalgia, capped by an exhibition basketball game.

FRONT ROW: Assistant Coach John Wetzel, Head Coach John MacLeod, Kyle Macy, Michael Holton, Walter Davis, Jay Humphries, Rod Foster, Assistant Coach Al Bianchi, Trainer Joe Proski.

In the weeks preceding the opener, the Suns confirmed their desire to go with youth and speed by trading veteran Maurice Lucas to the L.A. Lakers and allowing Kyle Macy to sign with Chicago. All-Star Larry Nance was a contract holdout throughout training camp and the pre-season before coming to terms one game into the regular season. Opening night's starting lineup consisted of Jay Humphries and Walter Davis at guard, Alvan Adams at center, with Mike Sanders and Charles Jones at forward.

Phoenix got off to the worst start in franchise history, going 0-9. During that period, the Suns successfully negotiated for the services of Georgi Glouchkov, a 6-8 center from the Bulgarian National Team, who became the first Eastern Bloc player to play in the NBA. At first, Glouchkov captured national media attention, as well as the affection of Phoenix fans, but communication difficulty, not to mention achilles tendinitis, would drastically curtail his playing time as the season progressed.

Both Davis and Adams passed the 12,000-point plateau for their NBA careers with Davis taking over the Suns all-time scoring lead. Davis led the team in scoring (21.8), while Nance became the club's top rebounder (8.5). For the first time in their history, the Suns did not place a player on the squad for the NBA All-Star Game.

Suns attendance held its own for the season, with an average of 11,121 per game. The Suns could never recover from their 0-9 beginning and finished the year 32-50, failing to make the playoffs for the first time in nine seasons.

FRONT ROW: Assistant Coach John Wetzel, Head Coach John MacLeod, Rod Foster, Walter Davis, Bernard Thompson, Mike Sanders, Jay Humphries, Assistant Coach Al Bianchi, Trainer Joe Proski.

The Suns opened the season with Larry Nance and Ed Pinckney at forward, Alvan Adams at center and Walter Davis and Jay Humphries at guard. That unit would start 26 of the Suns' 82 games, but 19 other starting combinations would get a shot along the way. Phoenix had five rookies on the club including William Bedford, the team's first round pick (sixth overall), diamond-in-the-rough Jeff Hornacek, Rafael Addison, Grant Gondrezick and Kenny Gattison. The Suns' 12-12 record in mid-December would be the last time they would be at .500.

On February 26, after consecutive losses to the L.A. Lakers and their record at 22-34, the Suns released their head coach of 13-plus seasons, John MacLeod, replacing him with interim Head Coach Dick Van Arsdale.

Under Van Arsdale, the Suns halted their skid, going 14-12 over the season's final 26 games. During the final two weeks, the Suns won nine of their last 10 games and 12 of their last 15. They won nine straight at home to end the season. Davis led the team in scoring with a 23.6 average while Nance chipped in 22.5 points per game. Davis also made his sixth appearance in the All-Star Game.

When the Phoenix Suns projected their opening night lineup, rookie Head Coach John Wetzel envisioned a starting unit of Larry Nance and Armon Gilliam at forward, James Edwards at center with Walter Davis and Jay Humphries at guard. During the season's final month, the Suns' starting unit had evolved into Eddie Johnson at small forward, Mark West at center, Kevin Johnson and Jeff Hornacek at guard.

The Suns finished the season with a 28-54 record, their poorest record since their 16-66 expansion season in 1968-69. However, in Suns history, 1987-88 will likely be referred to as "The Year of the Trade." In late February, Suns Director of Player Personnel, Cotton Fitzsimmons orchestrated a series of trades that changed the face and the fortunes of the Suns. It was the largest single transaction in the 20-year history of the Suns franchise. Fitzsimmons dealt Nance and Mike Sanders, along with Detroit's first round pick in 1988 to Cleveland in exchange for the Cav's first- and second-round draft picks in 1988, and players Kevin Johnson, West and Tyrone Corbin. The Suns finished off the trading flurry by sending Humphries to Milwaukee for Craig Hodges.

The Suns put together a respectable 11-9 record over the last quarter of the season with the new lineup. KJ eventually won Rookie of the Month honors for April. And, shortly after the end of the season, Wetzel was released and was replaced by Fitzsimmons, who was making his second appearance as the Suns' head coach.

FRONT ROW: Head Coach John Wetzel, Ron Moore, Jeff Cook, Armon Gilliam, Mark West, Alvan Adams, James Bailey, Assistant Coach Herb Brown, Trainer Joe Proski.

When the season began, no one predicted that the Suns would end up with the fourth best record in the NBA and give the defending World Champion L.A. Lakers a serious run for the Pacific Division title. The Suns did just that on their way to the third biggest turnaround in NBA history, improving by 27 games.

The 1988-89 Suns did not resemble any Suns team of the past since just one player, Jeff Hornacek, remained on the squad from two years before. Director of Player Personnel Cotton Fitzsimmons took over as head coach prior to the season and brought assistant coaches Paul Westphal, Lionel Hollins and Truck Robinson on board.

The Suns won 55 games, winning 18 of their last 22 games. They were the only team in the league to have three players average 20+ points (Tom Chambers 25.7, E. Johnson 21.5, K. Johnson 20.4) and led the league with 118.6 points per game.

The Suns set a new Coliseum attendance record in '88-89. They averaged 12,465 at home with 18 sellouts, also a franchise record.

The Suns defeated Denver in the first round of the playoffs. They won their second round series vs. Golden State 4-1. Next up were the L.A. Lakers in the Western Conference Finals. They played the Lakers tough but were shut out 4-0.

The Suns were showered with post-season awards. Eddie Johnson won the NBA Sixth Man Award, Kevin Johnson was named the Most Improved Player, Fitzsimmons won NBA Coach of the Year and President and CEO Jerry Colangelo was named NBA Executive of the Year for the third time. It was the first time in NBA history that a team won four post-season league awards. Chambers and K. Johnson were also selected to the All-NBA second team.

89 PHOENIX SUNS 90

The 1989-90 team finished 54-28 and accomplished many things along the way. The Suns had a strong nucleus with eight players returning from the previous year's team.

The Suns ended the season second in the NBA in points scored (114.9) and their 22 road wins established a new team record. The Suns also established a new NBA record on April 9 when they hit 61 free throws vs. Utah. The club won a single season team-record 19 in a row at home.

Head Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons reached the .500 mark for his career with a win over Philadelphia February 24. It was the first time he was at the .500 level since March 7, 1976 when he was head coach of Atlanta. Cotton, the 1989 NBA Coach of the Year, was named Coach of the Month for February.

The Suns set a new all-time regular season home attendance record April 3 versus Dallas and played to 578,661 fans. The Suns had 26 sellouts, which set a new franchise record, topping the old mark of 18 set in 1988-89.

Phoenix began playoff competition with a hard-fought 3-2 series win over Utah. They then defeated the L.A. Lakers, 4-1, in the Western Conference semi-finals, the first time a Suns team defeated the Lakers in a seven-game playoff series. The Suns then lost to Portland, 4-2, in the conference finals. Tom Chambers and Kevin Johnson were both named to the second team All-NBA squad.

90 PHOENIX SUNS 91

Following two consecutive trips to the Western Conference Finals and two straight 50+ win seasons, expectations of the Suns were high. They finished 55-27, their third straight 50+ win season.

The Suns took off for Tokyo, Japan to open the season with two games against Utah. It marked the first time that professional sports teams from the United States played regular season games outside of North America. The Suns and Jazz split the two games.

The Suns set several records versus Denver November 10. In that game, Head Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons won his 700th career game, becoming only the seventh coach in NBA history to achieve that mark. As a team, the Suns set a new NBA record for points in a half, scoring 107 first-half points, and tied the record for total number of points in a non-overtime game with 173.

On November 27 in Portland, the Suns defeated the Trail Blazers 123-109, ending a 20-game losing streak in Portland.

On December 7 the Suns sent Eddie Johnson and draft picks to the Seattle SuperSonics for Xavier McDaniel. Phoenix's 13 wins in March tied the club record for most wins in any month.

Phoenix finished the year with a 32-9 record at home and a 23-18 mark on the road. Their 23 road wins eclipsed the record of 22 set during the 1989-90 season. They lost in the opening round of the playoffs, 1-3, to the Utah Jazz.

91 PHOENIX SUNS 92

The Suns' 53-29 record marked their fourth straight year with 50 or more wins. During that four-year stretch, Phoenix compiled a 217-111 regular season mark, the fifth best record in the NBA, behind only the Chicago Bulls, the L.A. Lakers, the Detroit Pistons and the Portland Trail Blazers. The Suns opened the season with a grueling November in which they went 8-9. They rebounded and went 11-1 in December, 10-6 in January, 16-6 in an injury-plagued February, 12-3 in March and 5-4 in April.

The season included the franchise's 1,000th career win as they became just the 12th franchise in NBA history to reach the 1,000 win plateau and only Milwaukee, Boston, Philadelphia and the Lakers did so in less time. Phoenix's 36-5 home record tied the team's previous best set during the 1978-90 and 1980-81 seasons.

Five Suns players — Jeff Hornacek, Kevin Johnson, Dan Majerle, Tom Chambers and Tim Perry — averaged double figure scoring as Phoenix averaged 112.1 points per game, second in the league.

The Suns completed their 24th and final season at the Veterans' Memorial Coliseum by setting a new regular season attendance record. The Suns defeated San Antonio 3-0 in the first round and lost to Portland, 1-4 in the second round of the playoffs. The last NBA game played at Veterans Memorial was a 151-153 overtime loss May 11 in Game Four versus Portland. KJ scored 35 points for the Suns while Clyde Drexler dished in 33 for the Blazers.

92 93

Phoenix had high expectations going into their 25th Anniversary season in the new America West Arena. Phoenix, behind the June 17, 1992 trade for Charles Barkley which sent Jeff Hornacek, Andrew Lang and Tim Perry to Philadelphia for the eventual 1993 NBA MVP, led the NBA with a franchise-record 62 wins. Phoenix also acquired veteran guard Danny Ainge and elevated Paul Westphal to head coach.

Westphal became the winningest rookie coach in NBA history and coached the West squad to victory at the All-Star Game. The Suns began the season without KJ, who missed 31 games due to injury. December was perfect as Phoenix tied the NBA's third-best mark for a month with a 14-0 record.

At the All-Star Game, Phoenix was represented by the West's leading vote-getter Barkley and reserve Dan Majerle, as well as Westphal and his staff. With a 9-5 record in April, the Suns claimed their second Pacific Division title. The club led the NBA in scoring (113.4), broke the NBA record for three-pointers made (398) and set a franchise home attendance record (779,943). Jerry Colangelo was named NBA Executive of the Year for an unprecedented fourth time.

Down 0-2 against the L.A. Lakers in the first-round, the Suns became the first team in history to come back and win 3-2. The Suns downed Seattle in seven games to earn a trip to the NBA Finals against Chicago. Phoenix lost the first two games at home, but won two of the next three in Chicago, including Game Three, a triple-overtime affair that saw Majerle tie an NBA Finals record with six three-pointers and KJ set an NBA Finals record with 62 total minutes played. But the Suns came up short as John Paxson buried a three-pointer with 3.9 seconds remaining in Game Six in Phoenix to give the Bulls a 4-2 series win and their third straight NBA Championship.

The Suns added veterans A.C. Green and Joe Kleine to their Western Conference Championship team, but battled injuries throughout the season. Despite losing 211 player games to injury/illness the Suns posted a 56-26 record, the fifth best overall mark in the NBA. The Suns posted an impressive 13-2 record in December. But the team's fortunes took a drastic turn for the worse in January. After playing the first two months of the season virtually injury-free, the Suns top two players, Kevin Johnson and Charles Barkley, went down with injuries. They struggled to a 7-8 mark, their first losing month since November 1991.

Cedric Ceballos, who returned to the line-up after missing the first 29 games, led the team during January and had two 40-point nights in a three game stretch. Green averaged 19.3 points and led the team with 11.4 rebounds. Phoenix bounced back to capture an 8-4 mark in February. KJ, Barkley and Danny Ainge all returned to the line-up. KJ played in his third All-Star Game while Barkley, the league's leading vote-getter in balloting, was unable to play due to injury.

The Suns' march to the playoffs included a seven-game win streak. KJ had an impressive April, including a Suns record 25 assists in a win vs. San Antonio April 6. The Suns beat Golden State 3-0 in the first-round. In Game Three, Barkley scored 56 points, the third highest total ever in an NBA playoff game. The Suns continued to roll. After overcoming a 20-point fourth quarter deficit to take Game One, the Suns again came from behind to win Game Two of their second round matchup against Houston. But, the eventual champion Rockets were too tough, and battled back to take the series 4-3.

94 PHOENIX SUNS 95

A flurry of off-season activity brought free agents Danny Manning and Wayman Tisdale to a talent-laden roster as six current or former All-Stars suited up. While the team appeared ready to take their final step toward an NBA title, injuries plagued the club early and often. Charles Barkley strained an abdominal muscle during the preseason and missed the first 11 games. Kevin Johnson sat out 35 games during the year with leg injuries. Most damaging was the season-ending knee injury Manning suffered February 6, after averaging 17.9 point and 6.0 rebounds in 46 games. It would take nearly a year for the former Kansas University star to return to the court.

Rookie Wesley Person, Elliot Perry and Dan Majerle enabled the Suns to withstand the injury firestorm and hold the NBA's top mark (38-10) at the break. Person earned a place on the NBA's All-Rookie second-team. Perry finished second in voting for the NBA's Most Improved Player award, while Majerle became the first reserve to be voted to start on an All-Star team.

Majerle, Barkley and the rest of the West team were coached to a win by Suns' head coach Paul Westphal at the 45th annual classic held at America West Arena.

The Suns won eight of their last nine games to capture their third Pacific Division title and earn the second seed in the playoffs.

The Suns swept Portland, 3-0, setting up a rematch with Houston. Gaining momentum in the second round, the Suns won three of the first four contests in the best-of-seven-game series. But the defending champions refused to give up and battled back to win three straight, including an overtime victory in Game Five and a one-point win in Game Seven, on their way to a second straight NBA championship.

FRONT ROW: Scotty Robertson, Lionel Hollins, Paul Westphal, Trevor Ruffin, Wesley Person, Charles Barkley, Danny Ainge, Kevin Johnson, Elliot Perry, Garrick Barr, Todd Quinter, Joe Proski.

The Suns' 28th season included several outstanding individual performances and historical highlights, most notably Charles Barkley becoming the 10th player in NBA history to reach the 20,000 point-10,000 rebound level (Feb. 19 vs. Vancouver). Michael Finley, the 21st pick overall in the 1995 draft, was first-team All-Rookie.

The Suns, 41-41, failed to win 50 or more games for the first time since 1987-88 and endured 26 lineup changes and 296 games missed due to injury or illness.

On January 16, Cotton Fitzsimmons replaced Paul Westphal as head coach and guided the team to a 27-22 record. It was his third stint at the Suns' helm. At the start of training camp, the Suns acquired John "Hot Rod" Williams from Cleveland for Dan Majerle, Antonio Lang and a conditional first-round draft pick ('96, '97 or '98).

Danny Manning missed the first 42 games recovering from a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee, but played in 33 of the remaining 40 and averaged 13.4 points and 4.3 rebounds. Barkley averaged 23.2 points and 11.6 rebounds, his best averages since earning the league MVP Award in 1993. He was also Player of the Month for February. Kevin Johnson, the NBA's Player of the Week (April 7), overcame early-season injuries that forced him to miss 26 games and averaged 18.7 points and 9.2 assists.

Finley became the first Suns rookie since Walter Davis to score 1,000 points. A.C. Green completed his ninth-straight season without missing a game and pushed his consecutive games played streak to 813, the third longest streak in NBA history.

Three primary starters, Barkley, Williams, and KJ, combined to miss 55 games. KJ, however, missed just one game following the All-Star break. Mario Bennett, Phoenix's second pick in the first-round of the 1995 draft, missed the first 55 games while recovering from arthroscopic knee surgery, but started 14 of the 19 games he played.

The Suns entered the playoffs as the No. 7 seed in the West and were without Finley, who suffered a sprained left ankle in the final quarter of the last game of the season at Houston. For the first time since 1991, the Suns lost in the first-round, as San Antonio scored a 3-1 series win.

PLAYOFF HISTORY

SUNS ALL-TIME PLAYOFF RESULTS

1969-70 (SUNS 39-43 REGULAR SEASON)

The playoff format in 1970 rewarded the top four teams from both the Western and Eastern Divisions. The first series, known as the semifinals, was a best-of-seven format as were the two following rounds: the division finals and the NBA Finals.

1975-76 (SUNS 42-40 REGULAR SEASON)

Beginning with the 1974-75 season, the league was divided into the four divisions and two conferences we know today. Five teams from each conference advanced to the playoffs. The winningest three teams received a bye in the first-round, the remaining two teams played in a best-of-five first-round series. (In 1976 the Suns received the first-round bye.) The best-of-seven semifinals pitted the first-place team against the winner of the first-round series and the second and third-place teams against each other, with the winners advancing to the conference finals and the NBA Finals.

This procedure changed slightly prior to the start of the 1976-77 season when additional teams were added to the league. At that time, six teams advanced to the playoffs and each of the division winners received a bye to the semifinals. Again, the first-round of the playoffs was a best-of-five series and each of the three following series were best-of-seven.

NBA PLAYOFF FORMAT EXPLAINED

A total of 16 teams will qualify for the 1997 NBA Playoffs, the four division winners and the next six teams in each conference according to their won-lost record, regardless of division. The first-round is best-of-five (2-2-1), each succeeding round, including the NBA World Championship Series, is best-of-seven.

In every series the home-court advantage in the extra game goes to the team with the better record during the regular season, regardless of its standing in the division race. Thus, if a division winner plays a second-place team from another division that had a better record, the second-place team would get the home-court advantage.

In determining the playoff matchups, the eight qualifiers in each conference must first be ranked. The division winner with the better record becomes Team 1, the other division winner becomes Team 2 and the remaining 6 qualifiers are ranked Teams 3 through 8 according to their records. The playoff pairings for the first-round are Team 1 vs. 8, 2 vs. 7, 3 vs. 6, and 4 vs. 5 in each conference. In the conference semifinals, the winner of pairing 1-8 plays the winner of pairing 4-5 and the winner of pairing 2-7 plays the winner of pairing 3-6.

The World Championship Series will be played on a 2-3-2 basis, the team with the better regular-season record getting the home-court advantage for the first two and last two games. Other best-of-seven series are 2-2-1-1-1.

NBA PLAYOFF FORMAT
TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES FOR PLAYOFFS

Following is the tie-breaking procedure that is used to determine teams qualifying for the NBA Playoffs.

Two team ties:

1. Results of games against each other.
2. Winning percentage within own conference.
3. Winning percentage within own division (only if tied teams are in same division).
4. Winning percentage against playoff opponents in own conference.
5. Point differential in games against each other.
6. Point differential between offense and defense.

Multiple team ties:

1. Cumulative winning percentage in total games involving all tied teams.
2. Winning percentage within own conference.
3. Winning percentage within own division (only if tied teams are in same division).
4. Winning percentage against playoff opponents in own conference.
5. Point differential between offense and defense.

Notes:

1. Any ties involving the championship of a division are broken first.
2. If a multiple-team tie is reduced to a two-team tie at any point using the above criteria, that situation is then resolved by using the procedures outlined for two team ties.

KIMBERLY LEWIS
Dance Team Coordinator

The Phoenix Suns Dance Team is one of the most respected and exciting dance lines in sports. They have thrilled fans since their inception in 1990 and have become an integral part of the team's community relations program. Each member is required to make a minimum of 20 charity appearances which include school rallies and hospital visits. They have received national and international attention for on-court performances, including MTV's Rock-N-Jock game, the 1993 McDonald's Open in Munich, Germany and the World Basketball Championships in Toronto. The squad will be featured in Mexico City at the 1996 NBA Challenge.

SUNS COMMUNITY RELATIONS

NEAL WALK
SPEAKERS' BUREAU COORDINATOR

A Suns community spokesman since 1988, Neal Walk coordinates the Suns Alumni Speakers Bureau whose members make state-wide appearances at schools, nursing homes, prisons and juvenile detention centers. He also works with corporate and community groups to further awareness of handicapped issues in Arizona.

Walk spent eight seasons with Phoenix, New Orleans and New York after being selected by the Suns with the second overall pick in 1969. He played five seasons in the Valley (1969-74), averaging 12.6 points and 9.4 rebounds. In 1972-73, he averaged 20.2 points and 12.4 rebounds, becoming the only Suns center ever to grab more than 1,000 rebounds in a season (1,006).

A two-time All-American at Florida, Walk was the only major college player to rank among the top 10 in both scoring and rebounding. As a junior, he led the nation in rebounding (19.8) and turned in an incredible 31-rebound effort over Alabama.

Born July 29, 1948 in Cleveland, OH, Walk has been confined to a wheelchair since undergoing surgery for the removal of a tumor from his spinal cord in 1987. He was inducted into the Jewish Sports Hall of Fame in 1990 and received the 1991 Victory Award for Arizona and the 1995 Gene Autry Courage Award.

CONNIE HAWKINS
SPOKESMAN

Basketball legend Connie Hawkins returned to the Suns in 1992 as community spokesman. In addition to making community appearances, "Hawk" works with the city of Phoenix conducting summer basketball clinics at America West Arena. He also played an integral part in the NBA's Stay in School program during the 1995 All-Star Weekend.

His professional career began in 1961 with the ABL's Pittsburgh Rens where, as a 19-year-old rookie, he was the league's MVP. He then dazzled fans for four seasons with the Harlem Globetrotters before joining the ABA's Minnesota Pipers in 1967 where he earned league MVP honors.

Hawk joined the NBA with the Suns after Phoenix won his rights by virtue of a coin flip with Seattle in 1969. He played four seasons in the Valley (1969-73), was an All-Star each season, and averaged 20.5 points and 9.0 rebounds. Hawk played three more seasons, two for the Lakers and his final year with Atlanta. Hawk, whose Suns jersey (42) was retired November 16, 1976, earned a place in the Basketball Hall of Fame on May 11, 1992.

Born July 17, 1942 in Brooklyn, Hawk attended Boys High and was a 1960 All-American. He also earned two letters in track. An avid tennis player, Hawk teamed with John McEnroe in the NIKE Celebrity Doubles tennis exhibition in 1994, and with Todd Martin in the Gila River Tennis Jackpot in 1995.

Frank Johnson embarks on his second season as a Suns community spokesman after retiring in 1994 following ten outstanding NBA seasons.

He provides motivational speeches at more than 100 schools across Arizona and holds basketball clinics for the Phoenix Boys and Girls Club and YMCA. In 1995-96, he was a national spokesperson for the NBA's Stay in School program. He has also served as the Suns' United Way spokesman and was a board member for the National Association of Police Athletic Leagues. He served as an assistant coach in the 1996 NIKE Desert Classic at America West Arena.

The 11th overall pick in 1981 by the Washington Bullets, his first eight seasons were spent with the Bullets and Houston and his final two with Phoenix (1992-94). In 147 games as a Sun, he averaged 4.5 points and was a key reserve on Phoenix's 1993 NBA Finals team.

He and wife Amy have two daughters: Natalie and Lindsay.

DENNIS "MOE" LAYTON

Known as a spark off the bench during his playmaking days in Phoenix, former Suns guard Dennis "Moe" Layton returns this season to offer an assist in a different court — community relations. Moe serves as head coach of the Samaritan Wheelchair Suns basketball team.

A former Phoenix College and University of Southern California star, Moe was drafted by the Suns in the third-round of the 1971 NBA Draft (48th overall). He played two seasons in the Valley and averaged 6.9 points and 2.6 assists in five NBA seasons, which included stops in Portland, New York and San Antonio. While at USC, he teamed with Paul Westphal to form college basketball's top backcourt tandem. He is also Phoenix College's all-time leading scorer.

NBA COMMUNITY RELATIONS

The NBA, its teams, players and coaches support programs dedicated to helping build a better future for all people, with a special emphasis on youth.

The 1996-97 season marks the debut of the NBA's league-wide community outreach initiative entitled, the NBA TeamUp program. Its primary goal is to encourage youth to become actively involved in their communities. TeamUp helps young people develop an understanding of critical issues facing society and focuses on their ability to make a difference in the lives of others through community service projects. Program components include public service announcements, motivational visits by NBA spokesmaen and players and a national youth services award.

This season the league also introduces the NBA Sports-manship Initiative, a program designed to recognize and promote the importance of sportsmanship on and off the court. The nationwide program, implemented by the NBA in conjunction with the National Federation of State High School Associations, targets high school student athletes participating in basketball. Each year, an NBA player will be selected to receive the NBA Sportsmanship Award for demonstrating sportsmanship throughout the season.

The NBA also continues its support of Black History Month, CARE, the Martin Luther King, Jr. Holiday, the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse and Reading Is Fundamental through a variety of community outreach efforts.

In addition, the NBA's 29 teams remain actively involved in supporting and implementing various programs that positively impact their local communities in the United States and Canada.

SUNS STAY IN SCHOOL PROGRAM

The messages are simple... don't quit, set goals, don't do drugs or alcohol, get an education and stay in school. The challenge is finding messengers who can effectively communicate these thoughts to young students in a way they understand and accept. In the case of the Suns Stay in School video, the messengers include players Kevin Johnson, A.C. Green, Michael Finley and Joe Kleine; Suns President and Chief Executive Officer Jerry Colangelo; the Gorilla; and movie star/stand-up comedian Paul Rodriguez.

Stay in School with the Phoenix Suns is a 25 minute video that addresses those and other issues most commonly associated with growing up and is available for free to schools and youth groups throughout Arizona.

Due to the overwhelming number of player appearance requests, coupled with demands of an 82-game season and practices, the video was produced to extend the same positive messages that players deliver when visiting with children.

SUNS DONATE FUNDS FOR NEW PHOENIX PUBLIC LIBRARY

Long an advocate of youth and adult literacy, the Phoenix Suns donated $250,000 last season to the Phoenix Public Library to build the Children's Mystery Garden at the library's main branch.

The garden will be a 2000 square foot reading center located on the building's southeast corner, adjacent to Margaret T. Hance Park. It will be accessible only through the library's Children's Room and adults will be allowed in only if accompanied by a child. Surrounded by a 14-foot sculptural sandstone wall inspired by the Anaszi ruins, the garden will feature a storytelling amphitheater, fabric canopy shading and giant letters of the alphabet and will double as an outdoor learning center.

THE GORILLA'S HOOPMARKS READING PROGRAM

For the fifth season, the Suns teamed up with the Phoenix and Mesa Public Library to offer Valley youths "The Gorilla's Hoopmarks Reading Program;" a program that uses incentives to encourage reluctant children to read.

A Hoopmark is a bookmark featuring an action photo of a Suns player on the front and his statistics on the back. Kids earn Hoopmarks based on the number of books they read (or for young children, the number of books read to them). Each Hoopmark has a book value based on the player's position -- four books for guards and three books for forwards, centers and coaches.

During the 12-week program, 18,000 children participated in Hoopmarks, up from just 8,000 the first year. Sponsored by Smith's Food & Drug Centers, Hoopmarks was also offered in Spanish with nearly 1,500 Spanish-speaking youths taking advantage of the program.

In addition to Hoopmarks, the Suns also sponsored a summer reading through the Phoenix Public Library. Children who read for at least 20 hours earned a Suns team poster. More than 31,000 children participated last season.

PHOENIX SUNS CHARITIES

Phoenix Suns Charities, the team's non-profit foundation, makes contributions to charitable organizations which provide services to promote the positive growth and development of Arizona's children. Since its inception in 1989, Suns Charities has invested more than $1.75 million dollars in Arizona's children.

Last season, the foundation granted $430,000 to 81 youth organizations. Adding that figure to the Suns' corporate contributions and the Suns donated more than $1,700,000 to Arizona charities during the 1995-96 season. In addition to its grant-making function, Suns Charities added a scholarship program to its portfolio. SunStudents College Scholarship awarded 10 Arizona high school seniors $1,000 each for their college education.

To raise those funds, Suns Charities' board of directors and Suns staff coordinated several events last season highlighted by the Courtside Classic, a black-tie dinner/auction which is hosted by the entire team. The Suns Charities Scramble golf tournament was also one of the more popular events.

HAWK & WALK SUMMER YOUTH BASKETBALL

Unfortunately for some kids, summer means having little to do and lots of time to do it. But for more than 1,000 Valley youths, the Suns helped fill the void through the third annual Hawk & Walk Summer Youth Basketball Camps.

Suns legends Connie Hawkins and Neal Walk managed the camps, along with some help from Frank Johnson and Dennis "Moe" Layton, at America West Arena Practice Court from July-August. Through the City of Phoenix Housing Department, the Suns invited kids ages 6-15 living in local housing projects to attend the daily activities. which included basketball drills, games, special appearances by Suns celebrities and a bicycle safety seminar provided by the Phoenix Police Department. The Suns also distributed t-shirts and other gifts to each child in attendance.

SUNS ALUMNI SPEAKERS BUREAU

Perhaps past their prime on the court, sixteen former Suns players who live in the Valley are still at their peak off the court. Members of the Suns Alumni Speakers Bureau represented the Suns more than 60 times at various community relations events.

Headed by Neal Walk (1969-74), Speakers Bureau members include Alvan Adams (1975-88), Dennis Awtrey (1974-78), Jeff Cook (1979-83, 87-88), Jim Fox (1968-70), Connie Hawkins (1969-73), Nate Hawthorne (1974-76), Frank Johnson (1992-94), Joel Kramer (1978-83), Dennis "Moe" Layton (1971-73), Curtis Perry (1974-78), Truck Robinson (1978-82), Alvin Scott (1977-85), Dick Synder (1968-69), Dick Van Arsdale (1968-77), Tom Van Arsdale (1976-77).

ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE

Life is full of challenges and difficult decisions, especially for teens. But through Accept the Challenge (ATC), at-risk youths can participate in a program that provides them with the necessary tools to succeed in school.

Founded eight years ago by former Suns star Eddie Johnson, the Phoenix Youth Commission and the Suns, ATC has nearly doubled in size yet is still intimate enough to provide one-on-one education/career counseling. During the 1995-96 season, 50 students from South Mountain and Carl Hayden High Schools participated in the program. In addition to weekly meetings where topics range from college admission requirements to personal development techniques, students also participate in a mentor program, tour universities and even qualify for college scholarships.

SAMARITAN WHEELCHAIR BASKETBALL

Sponsored by the Suns, Samaritan Health System and America West Airlines and coached by former Sun Dennis "Moe" Layton, the team will again play in the National Wheelchair Basketball Association. Last year coached by former Sun Jeff Cook, the squad was featured for the second consecutive year at the NBA All-Star Game (San Antonio), and made a number of public appearances during the Suns' season demonstrating to kids the importance of teamwork and overcoming challenges.

EASTER SEALS BASKETBALL SHOOT-OUT

During a one-month period last season, students demonstrated leadership and compassion by raising $85,000 for the Arizona Easter Seal Society through their participation in the Suns-sponsored 17th Annual Easter Seals Basketball Shoot-Out.

Children statewide in grades K-12 gathered pledges for the number of baskets they made during a five-minute time span. And for their efforts they received lots of Suns goodies, including autographed items, tickets to Suns games and much more. The top two fund-raisers were honored at a Suns game and the top 100 fund raisers where the guests of honor at a special basketball clinic at the America West Arena hosted by Suns guard and program chairman Wesley Person and assistant coach Donn Nelson.

CYSTIC FIBROSIS 65 ROSES SPORTS CLUB

The phrase "65 Roses" is used by doctors and counselors when teaching young children how to pronounce the disease with which they are afflicted -- Cystic Fibrosis. It is also the namesake for one of Cystic Fibrosis' most substantial fund-raisers -- the 65 Roses Sports Club.

The 65 Roses Club is a fund-raising program where, for a premium donation, members enjoy the opportunity to attend Suns games and meet the players. Members also attend the annual Tip-Off Gala, which was hosted this past season by CF spokesman Danny Manning. Manning took over for Cedric Ceballos, who held the position for one year preceded by Tom Chambers' two-year stint and Alvan Adams' six-year tenure. The Suns have supported the program since its inception in 1982.

PHOENIX SUNS/BOYS & GIRLS CLUB BASKETBALL LEAGUE

For the past 28 years, the Suns have sponsored the Boys & Girls Club Basketball League, which last season included more than 5,200 12-13 year old boys and girls. Late last season, the Suns hosted the league's championship game at the America West Arena and provided tickets to the Suns game immediately following the youngsters' game.

PHOENIX SUNS HOLIDAY PARTY

Last December, nearly 100 children from the Boys & Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Phoenix attended a special holiday party at the America West Arena. In addition to meeting some of their favorite Suns players, the kids also were given a behind-the-scenes tour of the Purple Palace -- including stops in the Suns clubhouse and practice court. In addition to receiving Suns t-shirts and other gifts from the team, the kids were treated to lunch courtesy of Subway

MAKE-A-WISH

For terminally ill children, life and the world around them takes on a whole new meaning. Their needs and desires are far different from those blessed with good health. And as they near their certain fate and are left with one final wish, many children turn to the Phoenix Suns through the Make-A-Wish Foundation and the other similar charities. Last season, 21 children were granted their final wish...a wish to meet a Suns player.

KOOL KIDS

You have to stay cool to make it through Arizona summers. But children living near south Phoenix's Harmon Park Pool spell cool with a "K" as in Kool Kids, a program where local businesses pay for the costs of pool maintenance at local public pools so that children living in low-income areas can swim for free all summer. Once again, the Suns sponsored Harmon Park Pool, just a basketball's throw from the America West Arena. More than 260,000 children enjoyed aquatic activities at 20 Phoenix pools this summer through the program.

QUEST FOR QUALITY

There's no question that Suns tickets are hard to come by. In fact, the team has been playing to sellout crowds dating back to the 1989-90 season. And with a season-ticket waiting list well into the thousands, one might wonder what it takes to get a ticket. For Arizona students, the answer is quite simple...do well in school.

Thanks to sponsors Arizona Public Service and Phelps Dodge, the Suns distributed more than 12,000 complimentary tickets during the 1995-96 season to approximately 350 elementary and middle schools statewide.

For the past nine years, Arizona schools have been eligible to apply for an allotment of tickets, with the Suns randomly choosing the winners. Schools that are not chosen one season are given priority the following season. Each winning school distributes tickets to students they feel are most deserving. One student from each school attending each game is recognized at half-time by having his/her picture taken on the court with a Suns player, and every student receives a certificate of achievement.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME...GAMES

Every year during the holiday season, the Suns organization collects a variety of items at home games for Arizona's needy. Last year, Suns fans came through in a big way by donating tens of thousands of toys, shoes and food stuff for Toys for Tots, Shoes for the Homeless and the Salvation Army respectively.

ARIZONA EDUCATORS

Giving the teacher an apple used to signify an act of support for a him/her. But today, teachers are being recognized for outstanding effort in the classroom with a ticket...and more tickets.

The Suns and America West Airlines have teamed up to honor Arizona's high school teachers through Arizona Educators. Twenty times last season, a teacher was singled out for his/her inspiring classroom demeanor. Each of the winning teachers received 30 tickets to a Suns game and a complimentary round-trip airline ticket from America West Airlines.

SUNS PARTICIPATE IN HONOLULU INTERNATIONAL BED RACE

Led by the Gorilla, Suns alumni Connie Hawkins and Jeff Cook, the Suns participated in the 23rdrd Annual Honolulu International Bed Race Festival for Children's Charities in April on the island of Oahu.

The race, which benefited the Juvenile Diabetes Association and the Ronald McDonald House among others, was the culmination of a series of regional competitions in Hawaii, the U.S. mainland and Australia during the past year. In all, 65 teams participated in the event helping raise approximately $50,000. The Suns team earned their way into the Honolulu Race by competing in the 1st Annual Flagstaff Bed Race last September. This marked the first time the Suns have participated in the Hawaii event.

The competition involved a series of heats in which teams of four members pushed a fabricated steel bed along a one-quarter mile course while a fifth member rode in the bed. Midway through the race, teams would leave their bed and navigate through an obstacle course, which included strapping into two, eight-foot wooden planks and then walking 10 yards in unison.

The evening prior to the race, the Suns team was featured in a parade where an estimated crowd of 40,000 spectators lined the streets of Honolulu. Hawkins, Cook and the Gorilla also visited children at a local elementary school to talk to them about the importance of reading and to encourage them to stay in school.

AMERICA WEST ARENA

Since its debut in June 1992, the America West Arena has played host to the world's best sporting events, concerts, and family shows. This one-million-square-foot, multi-use facility is also home of the NBA's Phoenix Suns, NHL's Phoenix Coyotes and AFL's Arizona Rattlers. Additionally, the Arena was chosen as host of the 1995 NBA All-Star Game.

During the 1993-94 season, NBA insiders voted AWA the best place to play in the NBA. Even more significant is that it won not for its intimate design, nor its plush backstage accommodations, nor its many special amenities. We won because our people treat every visitor like a specially-invited guest. In its first year, the Arena was voted "Best New Concert Venue" by Pollstar Magazine and "New Venue of the Year" by Performance Magazine.

These accolades can be attributed to arena management's firm commitment, led by General Manager Robert Machen, to a quality product combined with superior service. The arena was designed for flexibility, capable of hosting a 20,000-seat boxing match, a 5,000-seat concert and anything in between. From spacious backstage accommodations to mid-level private suites and intimate bowl area, the arena is enjoyed by event managers and spectators alike.

Named for Phoenix's hometown airline, the America West Arena stands in tribute to an unprecedented public/private partnership, joining the city of Phoenix, America West Airlines and the Phoenix Suns in a 40-year agreement. Phoenix Suns President and CEO Jerry Colangelo led the charge to create an Arena that was designed specifically for basketball and located in Phoenix's revitalized downtown area.

Launching its fifth year of operation, the Arena is indeed the most visible evidence that the revitalization plan is a success. More than two million people visited the downtown area for Arena events last year, enabling restaurants, nightclubs, museums and shops to thrive. That kind of growth attracts attention and many new businesses are taking another look at downtown Phoenix.
